THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN IN NEW-YORK.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Assembling of the Delegates at Syracuse—The Tammany Quarrel—Candidates Talked of, &c.

SYRACUSE, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The city is tolerably well filled with the Democracy to-night. The outsiders particularly are in full force. Voorhees House is the head-quarters of both sections of the party, GIDEON TUCKER, Secretary of State, FERNANDO WOOD, PETER CAGGER and Gov. CHURCH having rooms there. HORATIO SEYMOUR is at the Syracuse House.

The New-York quarrel of Tammany and Anti-Tammany draws a large lobby from the City, each side being warmly supported and much feeling manifested. There is no attempt to disguise the struggle between the Hards and Softs, and the statements of the partisans of each side differ widely. The Hards claim with apparent confidence that they have a good show for a small majority of the Convention, and declare that HORATIO SEYMOUR shall not be elected to preside or to any other position. The Softs, on the other hand, claim nearly two to one in the Convention, exclusive of the contested seats.

The seat of GIDEON J. TUCKER, Secretary of State, is not contested, and he takes no part in the quarrel.

It is decided to admit no person to the floor to-morrow without a ticket, with the object of excluding all contestants until their cases are decided on. This, with the declaration of the Softs that the Convention must settle finally and decisively the New-York contest, makes it pretty evident that they have a majority in the Convention. Some of the Wood men, on the other hand, begin to hint that the Convention has no business to decide on regularity, but should, according to precedent, recognize each side as representative men, and admit half of each delegation. The chances, however, appear strongly in favor of the admission of one or other set as a unit, and the probability seems strong in favor of the Tammany delegates. It is Mr. WOOD's desire to get the subject up in Convention, instead of before the Committee. He is selected to present the case on one side, and DANIEL E. SICKLES on the other.

The anti-Tammanyites held a meeting to-night, FERNANDO WOOD presiding, and found the delegation full.

The Tammany men hold a caucus to-morrow at 10 o'clock.

The Hards talk, if they have the power, of nominating ELI COOK, of Erie, for temporary President, and one of their own section for permanent President. Mr. FAIRCHILD, of Madison, is also mentioned as temporary Chairman. The probability is, however, that no temporary organization will be had at all, but that ELI COOK will nominate HORATIO SEYMOUR for permanent President, and move that he be elected by acclamation.

The Vanderbilt organization in Kings appears most likely, indeed almost certain, to be admitted.

FERNANDO WOOD is bold and determined in talk, and declares that no ticket can carry the State that is nominated by a Convention that rules him out as a delegate. The principal interest seems to centre in this struggle, and many on both sides seem anxious to harmonize it if possible.

Much confidence is expressed in the ability of the party to carry the State, and candidates are plentiful for all the offices. The most prominent for Governor are AMASA J. PARKER, of Albany; WILLIAM KELLY, of Dutchess; Judge ALLEN, of Oswego and DAVID L. SEYMOUR, of Rensselaer. The latter does not appear to have much positive strength, but seems likely to receive a fair complimentary vote.

Judge PARKER is probably the strongest candidate at present, and his nomination appears the most likely. Judge ALLEN is also in fair strength, and Mr KELLY would be accepted by all as a compromise candidate.

The name of JOHN VAN BUREN has been mentioned, but apparently without any serious intention of pushing his claims.

HORATIO SEYMOUR would certainly have the vote of the Convention, if he was in the field.

For Lieutenant-Governor the names mentioned are: Col. W. C. CRANE, of Herkimer; SAMUEL J TILDEN, of New-York; Speaker ALVORD, of Onondaga, and others. There is also a strong desire to put Ex-Senator KELLY on the ticket for the second place.

For Canal Commissioner, among others, are named, Messrs. LORD, of Monroe; PARSONS, of Monroe; PIPER, of Niagara; WM. WILLIAMS, of Erie; and CUYLER, of Livingston.

For State Prison Inspector there are a vast number of candidates. Amongst the most prominent ones are Messrs. BAMBER, of Oneida; GREEN, of Jefferson; KEYES, of Essex; ELDERKIN, of St. Lawrence, and McLANE, of Dutchess.

The contested seats promise to keep the Convention over till Thursday.

The most prominent Democrats in the State are here, and the Convention promises to be one of ability and character.

No caucuses will be held to-night.

LATEST.

The contestants will be admitted to the floor to-morrow, but all, save delegates, excluded.

Mr. FAIRCHILD will be temporary Chairman; close figures count a vote for him of 69 to 33, exclusive of the contested seats, should a ballot be demanded. The plan of no temporary organization is opposed, on the ground that the appointment of the Committees on contested seats would create enemies for Governor SEYMOUR, who will probably be the permanent President.

JOHN B. HASKIN is here from Westchester as a looker-on. He declares that if Lecompton is indorsed he shall not vote the ticket, and that it will be beaten in the State.

New-York State Politics.

SYRACUSE, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The Hards of Albany to-day organized a General Committee of the candidates defeated in the primary elections, and elected contestants to all the districts from Albany County to seats in the Convention. This gives a double headed organization in the County.

OLEAN, N. Y., Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The Republican Congressional Convention for this District, (Thirty-third,) which met at Dunkirk on Saturday last, adjourned in the evening of that day, after 139 ballots. They reassembled yesterday morning, at 10 o'clock, and remained in session till 10 o'clock last night, after balloting not less than 150 times. R. E. FENTON, received ten votes, being the entire vote of Chautauque County. The Cattaraugus Delegates were divided between A. HAWLEY and A. SHELDON. FENTON insisted upon being nominated, but the Cattaraugus Delegates were instructed to oppose his nomination. The Convention finally adjourned sine die at 10 o'clock last night, without having effected a nomination.

Philadelphia Politics.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

A grand ratification meeting of the "People's" party was held this evening, in Jayne's Hall. The assemblage was immense. GEORGE W. BOWLIN presided. The speakers were local men. JOHN W. RYAN and E. JOY MORRIS, candidates for Congress, declared for the principles of a Protective Tariff and Popular Sovereignty. The resolutions and all the speeches possessed this bearing. Mr. MORRIS was enthusiastically received, and spoke with much eloquence. He said their defeat would be heralded throughout the country as an indorsement of the Administration and Scotch water pipes, and he wished the next message sent over the cable to announce the success of Protective Tariff principles.

Maine Election.

PORTLAND, ME., Tuesday, Sept. 14.

We have but few additional returns for Governor.

SOMES, Republican, is doubtless elected to Congress in the First District.

In the Third District, JOHNSON, Democrat, is 189 votes ahead, and is probably elected. The towns to be heard from, in this District, last year, gave 345 Republican majority.

The indications now are that the Republicans have elected five out of the six Congressmen.

MORRILL's majority in York is 43.

The Republican State Senators are elected in Cumberland and Penobscot Counties, but York is in doubt.

The Republicans will carry most of their Senators throughout the State.

In Penobscot, Cumberland and York Counties, all but three Representatives have been heard from, standing 32 Republicans to 16 Democrats.

PORTLAND, Me., Tuesday, Sept. 14—P. M.

We have sufficient returns to establish the reëlection of Governor MORRILL by from 8,000 to 9,000 majority. Further returns from the Third District show the election of FRENCH, Republican, by from 25 to 50 votes over JOHNSON, Democrat. This gives the six members of Congress to the Republicans.

From Washington.

REPORTED RESIGNATION OF GOVERNOR DENVER—THE MISSION TO SPAIN—MR. FORSYTH.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

It is understood that General DENVER has resigned the Governorship of Kansas, to take place in the course of a few weeks. It is probable that he will resume his former position as Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Senator BENJAMIN has declined the offer of the mission to Spain.

There is reason to believe that Minister FORSYTH will not return to the United States till October. At last accounts he was on the eve of leaving for Tacubaya.

The National Horse Exhibition at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The third National Exhibition of horses in this city opened to-day with the most gratifying prospects of success. The weather and all things are propitious to the occasion, and the attendance and proceedings of the day have most fully realized the anticipations of those interested.

The display embraces a large number of the most celebrated horses in the country, the whole numbering about five hundred. The general calvacade of horses entered for the exhibition made the circuit of the grounds this morning several times, presenting one of the most magnificent equestrian spectacles ever witnessed here.

In the Park grounds the remainder of the day was mostly occupied with the exhibition of various classes of horses, whose trials of speed and display of superior qualities attracted enthusiastic admiration.

This evening a public reception took place in the City Hall, at which spirited addresses were made by Mayor PHELPS and Dr. CHAFFEE, of this city; SOLON ROBINSON, of New-York; RICHARD H. YEADON, of Charleston, S. C.; Mr. LADD, late President of the Ohio Agricultural Society, and Mayor LEWIS, of Worcester. The floor of the hall was occupied by citizens and guests from abroad, and the galleries by a brilliant assemblage of ladies. The reception throughout was a very pleasant and enthusiastic affair.

A large number of people are arriving from various parts of the country, and the attendance during the remaining days of the exhibition will be very great.

Among those who have arrived this evening are Gov. BANKS and staff and N. P. WILLIS.

The exhibition opens to-morrow with a very interesting trial of speed, with stallions of 8 years and upward, and among the competitors will appear the celebrated horses Ethan Allen, Hiram Drew, and other notables of the Turf.

The Ohio State Fair.

SANDUSKY, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The opening of the Ninth Annual State Fair of Ohio to-day is of the most favorable character. The weather is beautiful, and the attendance large, more tickets having been sold than on the first day last year. The entries are unusually large in all the departments, except fruits and flowers. The entries of live stock number 1,054, and the miscellaneous 1.516.

Mr. BAIN, of Xenia, exhibited specimens of the Rarey system of horse-taming to an immense crowd. The exhibition of stock is particularly fine, and the entries of horses are fifty more than at any previous State Fair. To-morrow the stock is to be exhibited and the awards made, and on Thursday and Friday the ladies' equestrian performance for three prizes takes place.

Massachusetts State Temperance Convention.

BOSTON, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The State Temperance Convention, held here to-day in Tremont Temple, was quite fully attended. The Hon. JOSEPH WHITE, of Lowell, was chosen President, with twenty Vice-Presidents, representing various sections of the State.

The annual report of the State Temperance Committee speaks well of the success of the cause during the past year, and encouragingly of the future.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. MARSH, of New-York, a Committee was appointed to consider and report upon the subject of temperance, in a national aspect.

A proposition to nominate an independent temperance ticket for State officers at the ensuing election, was voted down by a large majority.

The State Temperance Address, which was presented by the Rev. Dr. HORBN, recommends the formation of "Citizens' Leagues" in all cities of the commonwealth to secure the election of city authorities who will instruct their Police imperatively to enforce the Prohibitory Law, as other laws.

A series of resolutions favoring moral suasion, but recommending impartial enforcement of the Liquor Law, were discussed and adopted.

This evening there is a large mass meeting of the friends of Temperance in Tremont Temple. NEAL DOW and Dr. JEWETT are among the speakers.

Departure of the Propeller.

BOSTON, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The steamer Propeller, Captain THACHER, sailed at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Liverpool via St. Johns, N. F. Her departure was quite an event, especially among our Irish fellow-citizens. The steam ferry-boat John Adams was chartered for the occasion and gaily decorated, with a large crowd on board, and accompanied the Propeller down the harbor with a band of music, firing salutes and other demonstrations of interest in the first steamer which has ever visited Boston from Ireland.

Colored Men's State Convention.

TROY, N. Y., Tuesday, Sept. 14.

A Colored Men's State Convention is in session in this city. WM. RICH is President, and about forty delegates are present. Resolutions were introduced to day, supporting the Republican State ticket, but have not yet been acted upon.

Burglary at Troy.

TROY, N. Y., Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The wholesale dry goods store of VAN SCHOONHOVEN, PROUDFIT & Co. was entered by burglars last night and robbed of about $3,000 worth of goods.

Non-Arrival of the Persia.

SANDY HOOK, Tuesday, Sept. 14—Midnight.

The weather is very dark, with rain, and there are no signs of the R. M. steamship Persia, now in her eleventh day from Liverpool. She is hardly likely to make her appearance before morning.

Convention of Superintendents of the Poor.

UTICA, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The State Convention of Superintendents of the Poor met here to-day, and propose a thorough revision of the poor laws. The most important change proposed is the institution of schools for the children of paupers.

Later from Havana.

CHARLESTON, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The steamship Havana, from Havana and Key West on the 10th inst., has arrived at this port. Sugar was unchanged. Molasses five to six rials. Freights dull. Sterling Exchange 15 per cent. Exchange on New-York 3¾ per cent.

Paper Mill Burned.

ALBANY, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The paper-mill at Chatham-Four-Corners was burned this morning, together with a dwelling and several outhouses. A man, named LEVI GARVEY, was burned to death in the dwelling. Property owned by Mr. ISACSON.

Congressional Nominations.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

In the Fifth Congressional District of this State OWEN JONES has been renominated by the Democrats. JOHN WOOD is the candidate of the Opposition.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

TIMOTHY C. DAY, from the First District, and JOHN A. GURLEY, from the Second, were nominated for Congress to-day.

The Comet.

HALIFAX, N. S., Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The comet was seen here last night in about 165° ascension, 27° declination, north.

Southern Ocean-Steamer Movements.

CHARLESTON, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The United States Mail steamship Marion, Capt. W. J. FOSTER, from New-York, arrived this (Tuesday) morning at daylight.

SAVANNAH, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The United States Mail steamship Alabama arrived here to-day, below at 5 o'clock A. M., and at her wharf at 11 o'clock. All well.

The screw steamship Huntsville, of CROMWELL's line, arrived here this day, the 14th.

Yellow Fever in New-Orleans.

NEW-ORLEANS, Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The deaths from yellow fever during the thirty hours ending yesterday noon, were 98.

OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Mr. Secretary Thompson and the Land Law—Floyd and Cobb—A Sunday Dispatch from the Interior Department to the New-York Tribune—Some Comments thereupon—Heading off Speculators—"Bleeding" Kansas—Mr. Cushing's Opinion on the Town Site Law.

Correspondence of the New-York Times:

WASHINGTON, Monday, Sept. 13, 1858.

In my last letter I called attention to the extraordinary policy of Mr. Secretary THOMPSON, in revolutionizing the town-site system, and repealing the several clauses in the preëmption acts bearing on this subject which do not happen to meet with his approbation. What is his motive? your readers will naturally ask. With the motives of men I have nothing to do, and least of all with the motives of Secretaries. What was Secretary FLOYD's motive in selling Fort Snelling for a song and in paying through the nose for Willett's Point? As Mr. FLOYD's friends were the beneficiaries of these transactions, the uncharitable insist that his motive was to enrich his friends at the expense of the public. What is Secretary COBB's motive in withholding overpaid duties from the merchants entitled to receive them? The censorious say that it is a vain ambition to be quoted and praised for saving money to the Treasury—by the plunder of individuals. Who knows? Now there are men no better than the wicked in these parts who say that Secretary THOMPSON's repeal of a a portion of the preëmption acts, and his novel interpretation of another portion, have reference to the adjustment of certain town sites in Kansas and Nebraska, in which some of those abominable "Eastern Capitalists" have been accused of making investments. Whether this so or not, we shall never know, perhaps; but I take for granted that Committees of Inquiry will be raised in the next Congress who will throw some light on Mr. THOMPSON's motives for changing the well-settled and long-established law of the land.

Thus far I had written, when the Tribune of this morning, was placed in my hands, containing, apropos to motives, the following remarkable dispatch:

"SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

From a Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12, 1858.

A recent decision of the Secretary of the Interior recites that preëmptions to town sites on public lands are to accrue to the benefit of actual occupants naturally drawn to the point by the course of business and trade.

This breaks up the old routine practice of the Land Department, which has made many land speculators millionaires by recognizing their bogus occupants as really so in contemplation of law. Hundreds of speculative sites and thousands of speculators will be headed off by this policy of Mr. THOMPSON. Though it is assumed by the speculators that the old practice had the sanction of Mr. CUSHING, I am authorized to state that he has personally approved of the decision of the Secretary of the Interior."

I copy this at length, because it is an important document. It did not occur to me that I should bring down the coon at a single shot. My letter on this subject was printed in the TIMES of Saturday, the 11th inst. So interesting was it to the friends of the Secretary, that they must profane the Sabbath in getting up their reply to it. The reply is obviously by authority. It is a cognovit of the truth of my charges. It admits that Mr. THOMPSON has broken up the "old routine practice" of the Land Department. In other words, he has broken up the well-settled law that has been founded on the decisions of the Land Department for a term of from 13 to 17 years. He has broken up the old law, and of course introduced a new law, without notice; and has swept within its operation cases that have rested securely on the faith of the official instructions and repeated adjudications of his predecessors. The law that JOHN C. SPENCER, ROBERT J. WALKER, THOMAS EWING, A. H. H. STUART, and R. McCLELLAND had been moulding and administering for a series of years—under the advice of such Attorneys General as LEGARE, MASON, NELSON, TOUCEY, JOHNSON, CRITTENDEN and CUSHING—the "old routine practice" that these gentlemen established—the great reformer, Mr. JACOB THOMPSON, of Mississippi, has "broken up." Jurisprudence à bas! Vive le "poker!"

But what is the "motive" assigned by Mr. THOMPSON? Not a word of Kansas! not a word! The specious reason is to "head off" speculators. Now it may be very pleasant amusement to "head off" speculators, but we are not aware that the Secretary of the Interior has the power of dispensing with the law, changing the law, or repealing the law for this purpose. "Speculators" and "millionaires!"—it seems that these are the game Mr. THOMPSON flies at. Why should they be so offensive to the Secretary that he should change the "routine practice," or well-tested law of the Land Department, in order to "head them off?" If Mr. THOMPSON is not very much belied, he is a "millionaire" himself—and of his million it is said that a portion is the result not only of speculation, but of a gigantic speculation—a speculation not bounded like that of his city-site claimants, within the outside limits of 320 acres, but extending to hundreds of acres, and thousands of acres of the public lands! I do not impeach Mr. THOMPSON's official character—nor would I insinuate that he has speculated in the public lands since he has been Secretary. But I insist that, with a huge fortune in possession, accumulated by successful operations under the Swamp-land Act, (passed while Mr. THOMPSON was a Member of Congress,) it does not become the Secretary to denounce "millionaires" and "speculators" who are in pursuit of a fraction of 320 acres by a process authorized by the laws of the land, as they have been uniformly interpreted and acted upon by all Mr. THOMPSON's predecessors from the time of their passage.

But this "heading-off" of speculators is not the true motive of Mr. THOMPSON's repeal of so much of the laws of 1841 and 1844, as related to town sites. The Secretary has no such phobia. He is not so simple as to believe that he "heads-off" a single speculator by this change of the law. He knows perfectly well that the "speculators" operate through fraudulent agricultural preëmptions on a large scale, and not for a subdivision of 320 acres. He knows perfectly well—if he knows anything of the doings of the Land Office—that more than one-half of the agricultural preëmptions are frauds upon the preëmption law, and have been so for the last ten years. If he wishes to "head-off" the speculators, let him consult with his Receiving DEAN and his Register HENNING, and get a leaf out of the books of Senators BRIGHT and FITCH—and he can then operate against them on a large scale. This peddling in town sites is altogether unworthy of his genius.

You will perceive that I have not exaggerated the importance of these changes in the law, when the authorized exponent of Mr. THOMPSON's views assures us that they will "head off hundreds" of town-sites, and "thousands" of speculators. There are many worthy men in New-England and the North, who have aided their friends in the settlement and occupation of town sites in Kansas, and throughout the whole Northwest, and who have taken in return such conveyances as they were able to give, of interests in their settlements. Those who have borne the expenses of the enterprise, have supposed that they could be identified legitimately from the results of it. These are the men whom Mr. THOMPSON denounces as speculators; and to injure whom, as far as he may, he "breaks up" the "old routine practice" of the Land Department. I advise my friend of the Tribune to pause, before he commits the columns of his paper to the doctrines of his special telegraphic correspondent. He will find that the principal shrieks in this business will come from bleeding Kansas—and that his friends will be bled worse than ever Kansas was—if Mr. JACOB THOMPSON can have his way.

With regard to the assertion that Mr. CUSHING approves Mr. THOMPSON's new law on this subject. I shall venture to pronounce the assertion altogether untrue. Mr. CUSHING is far from the simpleton that the special correspondent would have us believe. Mr. CUSHING has given a very elaborate and an exceedingly able opinion on all the important points of the town-site law. This opinion Mr. McCLELLAND adopted in detail. All these points Mr. THOMPSON's young men have overruled; and Mr. THOMPSON has been inconsiderate enough to put his signature to their feeble effusions. To suppose that Mr. CUSHING has been convinced by the logic of these clerical young men; that his well considered and important opinion on this law is rightfully overruled and set aside on every point; and that he bows with deference to their superior skill and sharpness in construction, any one who does not know Mr. CUSHING, may believe. It will require more than the averment of a special telegraphic dispatch to induce me to give it credence.

My own judgment is, that the Secretary who "breaks up" the "old routine practice" of a Department—based upon that cotemporaneous construction which is the strongest in the law—a construction naturally growing out of the plain words and obvious intent of statutes—a construction which no Secretary and no Attorney-General has ever doubted—a construction which has been for many years acquiesced in by the Legislature, which could at any time correct it if erroneous—my own judgment is, that such a Secretary ought to be impeached. And if, on impeachment, it should turn out that he has "broken up" this practice on no better pretence than that of "heading off" speculators, then he should be discharged as an incompetent public servant.

My comments on this dispatch have interrupted my purpose of showing the extent of Mr. THOMPSON's changes in the law, which I must reserve now for a future letter. It is bed-time.

The "Douglas Defection" at the South—The Boot on the Other Leg.

Correspondence of the New-York Times

WASHINGTON, Saturday, Sept. 11, 1858.

The Union continues to rave over what it is pleased to call the "Douglas Defection." Of course, its articles are simply the reflection of the feelings of the President, who dictates all, and is said even to write some of them. It excites wonder here that Judge DOUGLAS should exhibit such forbearance in his speeches, with the mainspring of all this abuse which is heaped on him in the Union. It occasions surprise that DOUGLAS should not at once accept the issue of the personal pique waged by Buchanan against Douglas, for this is the whole war, one of simple personal piques, enmity and prejudice. It would help DOUGLAS if he would just take the old President by the collar (and there are plenty of joints in his harness to spear, as well as good places for a grip) and shake him a little instead of battering his organ under which he covers his fire. It is a pity that DOUGLAS does not take high grounds at once, telling the people that it is a personal war made on him by the President because he would not bend his knee to executive dictation—telling them that out of pure personal dislike is BUCHANAN even now ordering his minions to invade the soil of Illinois to "crush him out"—not forsooth because he, DOUGLAS, is untrue to his party faith, but because BUCHANAN hates him personally, and wants to get him out of the way of the succession. Such a speech would not cost DOUGLAS one Democratic vote, while it would bring him any number of the opposition. He will have it to make sooner or later, and my opinion is the sooner the better.

The Union's advice to the South in connection with DOUGLAS appears to have little weight with her Press and politicians. Her ablest and most influential Democratic papers are out in support of DOUGLAS, and protest at the course of the Union. Such journals as the Raleigh (N. C.) Standard, Augusta Constitutionalist, Richmond Enquirer, Examiner, South Side Democrat, New Orleans Delta, Crescent, True Delta, St. Louis Republican, Memphis Appeal, and a host of others, are clamorous at the war on DOUGLAS; while such fire-eating and extreme papers as the Richmond South, Charleston Mercury and Mobile Register, disposed to go with the Union at first, appear to have lowered their lances and to have acquiesced in the general voice of the Southern Press. Scarcely less decided manifestations appear on the part of the leading Southern statesmen. The views of Messrs. ORR, STEPHENS and GREEN have found their way into the papers, while it is said that letters from Messrs. HUNTER, TOOMBS, JEFFERSON DAVIS, CLAY, FITZPATRICK, CLINGMAN, BRANCH and others have been received here, strongly disapproving the course of the Union, and sympathizing with DOUGLAS. Such, I assure you, is the almost unanimous current of sentiment at the South, as I learn from the best sources of information.

By November the Administration will be left without a corporal's guard of sympathizers in its war on DOUGLAS, in that section in whose interest it affects to have waged it.

Speaking of newspapers reminds me that the TIMES, as a bold and independent metropolitan journal, is rapidly extending its influence at the South. It is spoken of in the most flattering terms of commendation, and is fast superseding the Herald as an organ of independent sentiment and as a valuable medium of early intelligence. J.

Personal.

The venerable M. VON HUMBOLDT lately wrote to a Parisian publisher, declining to prepare a revised edition of one of his works, and prophesying his own death as an event which would occur in the year 1859. This letter was produced in Court recently, during the course of a trial in Paris. M. VON HUMBOLDT added that he preferred that his works should not be altered until after his death. Last month he wrote the following letter to the Duke of Saxe-Weimar, declining an invitation to be present at the Third Centennial Anniversary of the University of Jena, in consequence of the weight of bodily infirmity. The closing part of the letter is a striking evidence of the unquenchable spirit of the venerable savant:

BERLIN, Aug. 10, 1858.

Your Magnificence having, in your own name and in the name of the highly-honored Senate of the Grand Ducal and Ducal Saxon united University, favored me with an invitation to appear as an honored guest at the glorious, genuine Protestant Jubilee of the 15th August, I have delayed writing to express my deep gratitude till now, almost flattering myself, in my 89th year, with the hope that I might transgress the orders of my physicians, requiring me to remain quiet and without change. My wishes have not been fulfilled. Not my laboriousness, not the interest which I take in the free public intellectual life of Germany, but my physical powers, are rapidly declining, and I must deny myself the privilege of going where I am drawn by pleasant and suggestive recollections and feelings of the deepest gratitude.

Most respectfully, and commending myself to your favor, I remain, your most obedient colleague,

ALEXANDER V. HUMBOLDT.

Recently (says the Table Talk) an article appeared, intimating that John Howard Payne was not the author of the touching song, "Sweet Home," which forms a part of one of his operas. The authorship was ascribed to Washington Irving, who, it is well known, was a personal friend of Payne. In order that no doubt might rest upon so interesting a question, at a time when some effort is being made to erect a monument to the memory of the gifted Payne, we addressed a note to Mr. Irving, which has elicited the following reply—"Sunnyside, July 3, 1858. To the Editor.—Dear Sir: In reply to your inquiry, I assure you that I did not write the words of 'Sweet Home.' I have always considered the late John Howard Payne to be the author of that very popular song, and am still of that belief. Yours very sincerely, Washington Irving." This sets at rest the question of authorship. There is not the slightest reason to doubt that Mr. Payne was the author of the words of "Sweet Home," which, touching and popular as they are, in point of mere literary ability, are inferior to many other of his productions.

The following list of Americans was registered at the Banking Office of Messrs. LANSING, BALDWIN & Co., No. 8 Place de la Bourse, Paris, from Aug. 19 to Aug. 26, 1858:

New York.—Sidney Corbett, G. W. Farlee and wife, Mrs. Geo. Opdyke, W. J. Ross, B. Subro, Jacob Abbott and wife, F. G. Thurston, E. R. Robinson, F. Gibney, H. Joceylin and wife, Aaron Leggett, J. Alcock and lady, E. Janeway, A. Thomas, C. M. Hinman, George Gage, J. A. H. Bell, G. W. Forbes. South Carolina.—R. N. Gaurdin, A. Herbemout and family, J. Barrett. Massachusetts—H. Jenney. Pennsylvania.—G. Kennedy, D. H. Cadwalader and daughter, W. C. Cabbell. Virginia.—Dr. W. M. Turner. Louisiana.—F. Placide, W. C. Ferriday, J. C. Ferriday, Andrew Gaw. New-Jersey.—F. T. Kinney. Maryland.—J. T. Pendergast. Illinois.—T. D. Gilbert. Ohio.—W. A. O'Hara.

The following odd announcement appears in the London Morning Advertiser: "We understand that Mr. John Townsend, M. P. for Greenwich, has been offered and accepted an engagement at one of the metropolitan theatres, at a salary of £25 per week. Mr. Townsend's engagement is for 50 nights. Though the fact is not generally known, Mr. Townsend has, on various occasions, represented, with decided success, some of Shakespeare's principal characters in furtherance of the cause of charity. In the present case he is to appear, we are told, on the histrionic boards for the sole purpose of assisting in the liquidation of the claims of his creditors—the only consideration, we are assured, which could have induced him to accept the offer made to him. As a preliminary step, he will at once resign his seat in the House of Commons.

The Rev. Augustus Brodhead and wife left this City this afternoon for Boston, en route for India, as missionaries of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. Mr. Brodhead is a brother-in-law of Rev. H. S. Carpenter, of the Westminster Church, Brooklyn. He is a graduate of Union College, and recently of the Princeton Theological Seminary, and a gentleman of ripe scholarship and of rare abilities.

An infant son of Randolph Rogers, of Virginia, the sculptor, was recently baptized in St. Peter's Church, in Rome. Mr. Rogers is not a Catholic, but was present at the ceremony.

MAILS FOR THE BERMUDA ISLANDS.—We are requested to state that arrangements have been made for the transmission of letters in sealed bags between the United States and Bermuda by means of the British mail packets plying between Boston and Halifax, Nova Scotia, and between Halifax and Bermuda, the United States inland postage only, of five cents the single rate, to be prepaid in this country on letters sent, and collected on letters received. The British sea rate of eight cents per half-ounce letter, together with the colonial postage where chargeable, will be collected in Bermuda, both on letters sent and received.

Mails will be made up at the New-York and Boston offices for transmission by every alternate British packet from Boston, commencing with the packet of 22d September instant.—Washington Union, Sept. 14.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC.

Later from Port-au-Platte.

Our dates from the Dominican Republic are to the 2d September.

The political scenery of this Republic has again changed. After the party of Cibao had forced Ex-President BAEZ to capitulate, we thought then everything would be right. President VALVERDE was doing all in his power for the good of his country. He is probably one of the ablest men of the Island, and it excited surprise that he has had to retire from the Chair; but General SANTANA, as you know, is the greatest man on this Island, and he was in command of the forces against BAEZ. When the new Constitution was formed, instead of electing him President, VALVERDE was elected. That he could not digest; and also another thing: The Capital was changed to Santiago. The people of San Domingo City could not agree to that, so all united and framed a manifesto stating that the Capital ought to be in San Domingo, and that the Constitution of 1854 is the only Constitution for this country. SANTANA was at the head of this party. The manifesto was forwarded to the President; he called on the towns asking them if he should deliver the reins of Government to SANTANA. The response was "No, we shall sustain you to the last." The following proclamation was immediately issued as a sort of declaration of war:

JOSE DESIDERIO VALVERDE, President of the Republic: Considering that by the 21st authorization of the 84th article of the fundamental pact, the legal charge of the public funds is intrusted to me, and that it is my duty to prevent at every hazard Gen. SANTANA, as petty head of a faction, got up in Santo Domingo on the 27th of July last, from disposing of the national credit.

The advice of the Council of Ministers, Secretaries of State, having been heard, I hereby decree:

SINGLE ARTICLE—All contracts, national or foreign, relative to loans of money, or purchase of stores, vessels, provisions, arms, munitions of war, &c., which General SANTANA has made or may make, in the name or for the account of the nation, and using the authority which the Santo Domingo faction is said to have conferred upon him, shall be and are wholly repudiated; and the lenders or furnishers shall not be creditors, or possess rights of reclamation upon the public treasury for any such sum, effects or values, whatever they may be.

Given in the Palace of Government of Santiago de los Caballeros, on the 10th day of the month of August, 1858, year 15th of the country, and 2d of Liberty. JOSE D. VALVERDE.

Countersigned PABLO PUJOL, Minister of the Interior and of Commerce.

An army was raised and marched to ——, a town most on the line dividing the Province of San Domingo from Cibao; there they remained for a few weeks without meeting with anything very remarkable. At last, 200 men of the Santana party appeared, a great battle was expected, but the soldiers of VALVERDE refused to fight, by telling him they would not fight against SANTANA. The only thing he could do, which he did, was to jump on his horse and return to Santiago. From that time to this it is not known where he is. General SANTANA has entered the city of Santiago with 500 men. He says that he comes with open arms to receive all his friends, and all that has been done is forgotten. It is expected that General SANTANA will be elected President, and that he will keep order.

On the 28th of August President VALVERDE issued the following proclamation, resigning his office:

José Desiderio Valverde, President of the Republic, to the Honorable Members of the Senate:

FELLOW-CITIZENS: My election to the first magistracy of the country was the result of the spontaneous will of the national representatives, and my acceptance was a duty which patriotism imposed upon me.

Having, therefore, ascended to so high an elevation, my sole desire, my constant thought, was to secure the happiness of my unfortunate country, and to use my power, with an absolute forgetfulness of my individuality, in such a manner that, upon retiring to private life, I should leave behind the traces of order, and moral and material progress, and that my conscience should not torment me with the bitter recollection of tears shed in consequence of my misgovernment. But so desirable a perspective was based upon the expectation of the constant and unanimous support of all sections of the Republic; and you have seen that my administration had hardly commenced, when a portion of our brethren of the South pronounced against the established order of things; and thus the work of improvement which had ceaselessly occupied me was paralyzed.

Upon receiving the disagreeable news, as you know, I firmly decided to sustain the institutions which the nation had established in February last, and the dignity of the high position which I occupied, always counting upon the adhesion of all the towns to the sacred principles of liberty proclaimed upon the memorable 7th of July. In short, you saw me adopt measures eminently calculated to ensure public tranquillity, and which, at the same time, tended to save the just and legitimate cause which I represented. But all the towns of the South have seconded the pronunciamento of Santo Domingo, and unhappily this causeless movement has commenced to invade the very cradle of the principles of which I appeared to be the living personification; that is to say, that it has penetrated already to some of the towns of the Cibao.

Under such circumstances, the duty of a patriot, laying aside all personal views, requires of me, that suffocating in my bosom my dignity as a soldier, I should avoid the effusion of blood, and all the calamities consequent upon an honorable but fruitless resistance. Therefore, after having obtained and accepted the corresponding resignation of my Ministers, Secretaries of State, I accompany them by my own resignation, which I tender to you, to save public order, and to give to the world a striking proof of my devotion to the sovereign will of the majority.

I expect, from the patriotism and good feeling of my fellow-citizens of those towns that have not yet pronounced for the rising of St. Domingo, that they will conduct themselves with that moderation which these solemn circumstances so imperiously demand.

Understand, honorable Senators, and appreciate, to its fullest extent, how much self-denial and love of my country there is in the sacrifice which I make for her, and do not scruple to accept this act of justified resignation, nor lose a moment in adopting the most opportune measures to preserve the order and tranquility of these towns.

With sentiments of the most distinguished consideration, I subscribe myself your obedient servant,

JOSE D. VALVERDE.

From Brazil.

By the arrival, at this port, of the schooner Coast Pilot, we have papers from Bahia to Aug. 6, and Rio de Janeiro to Aug. 1.

There is no general news of interest from Bahia.

At Rio de Janeiro, on the 18th of July, there was an insurrection of slaves on a small scale, which at one time threatened to become serious. Sr. ANTONIO FERREIRA GUIMARAES having determined to sell his slaves, they resisted, when he ordered them to be punished. Thereupon they took possession of his house, and barricading the doors, ascended to the roof, whence they assailed the people in the street with tiles, bricks and pieces of furniture. The slaves resisted all overtures to surrender, until a strong military force was brought to the spot. The soldiers blew open the door of the house with powder, and charged the slaves at the point of the bayonet; but the negroes resisted to the last, who were only captured after a desperate battle. There were several persons severely wounded on both sides.

Señor PARANHOS, who made the treaty with Paraguay, opening the navigation of the rivers to all flags, had returned to Rio, and received the compliment of a military serenade.

Madame LAGRANGE has been engaged in the Imperial Opera House at Rio de Janeiro, the papers say, at a salary of $60 000 per annum, with all her expenses, and those of her suite of ten persons. She is also to have a house in the suburbs of Rio. Fifty thousand francs are to be advanced before she will undertake the voyage.

A large number of German emigrants have lately been introduced into the Empire.

In the Province of San Paulo the inhabitants have held a meeting, and resolved to build a Protestant Church, of which the Rev. GEORGE HOLZEL is to be the Pastor. The Protestant missionary in the colony of Sancta Isabel had died of yellow fever. His name is not given.

In the Province of Minas Geraes the manufacture of fine porcelain has been commenced upon a large scale, under Government patronage, the clay being very superior.

Embarkation of coffee in Rio from July 1 to 31, 113,098 bags.

From the Rio de la Plata.

Via Bahia, we have later dates from Montevideo.

Buenos Ayres, the Argentine Confederation, &c.

In Montevideo, the Legislature adjourned on July 24, after appointing an Executive Committee to coöperate with the President during the recess.

There was a large fire on the morning of July 20, in Montevideo, the candle factory in the streets of Paranas and Ciudadela being totally destroyed.

The English bark Peruvian, at Montevideo from Glasgow, reports that (no date) in lat. 50° S., lon. 62° W., she fell in with the British bark Penny Coed, Capt. COLE, with seven feet of water in the hold. The Peruvian took on board the Captain and twelve men off the wreck, which was then abandoned.

In Buenos Ayres, elections for representatives had taken place without disturbance.

July 20, the Government addressed a pacific note to the President of Paraguay, explaining the action of the Buenos Ayrean Government in appointing the Committee on Paraguayan citizenship, which had given umbrage to LOPEZ, and expressing the hope that the explanation would be considered sufficient to produce a restoration of friendly relations.

A Congress of the Argentine Confederation, July 15, passed a law, modifying the exportation duties on all products of the country exported directly from the fluvial ports of the Confederation.

The elections for Governors of the interior provinces had been peaceably made.

VENEZUELA.

Commission to Recall Gen. Paez.

The gentlemen who arrived at this port in the bark Joseph Maxwell, from Puerto Cabello, were not expatriated, as was currently reported on Sunday night last, but constituted a commission from the people to proceed to New-York, and invite Gen. PAEZ to resume the Presidency of Venezuela. An invitation was extended to him, it will be remembered, on the first outbreak against the corrupt administration of MONAGAS, which has now been overthrown, leaving the Republic to discover an indebtedness on the part of that faction to the amount of not less than two hundred millions of dollars. Gen. PAEZ, however, would not entertain the first proposition, very properly conceiving it to be premature in him to return, till the entire voice of the people should be ready to reseat him in the position from which he was hurled in 1851. Now there seems to be no obstacle beyond the toils he will impose upon himself in accepting the honor that his countrymen urge him to accept. He was deprived of the Presidency by an act of tyranny, and the people, who were so foolish as to surrender a good government for a bad one, have learned a lesson that may teach them to value the internal peace of liberty, and to hate the intrigues which seem to be the curse of all Spanish nationalities.

We remember the prediction made on the great New-York reception given to General PAEZ on his arrival as an exile from Venezuela. In an unobtrusive manner, after a very brilliant welcome, he retired to the scenes of private life, undistracted by the cares of government, and scarcely hoping, save for the sake of Venezuela, that the prophecy would be fulfilled. He finds now that what seemed like a mere surmise is a palpable reality, and we do not doubt that he will yield to the wishes of his countrymen, and return to bring her out of the smoke and darkness in which she has been involved ever since the patriotic exile left her shores.

We should hail the event of General PAEZ's acceptance of the Presidency of Venezuela as of more than common importance. It would not only lead to a new style of government in that country—to even an improvement upon President PAEZ's own liberal Administration—but it would have a beneficial effect on all the Spanish-American Governments. General PAEZ has had ample time and opportunity for learning lessons of political and commercial wisdom during his exile in this country, and should he give them a practical expression on his return to Venezuela, the most beneficial fruits would result, not only to his own countrymen, but to our intercourse with that Republic. It is, therefore, with sincere gratification that we learn that he is now to decide upon the demands made by his countrymen for his reassumption of the dignity of which he was treacherously deprived. We scarcely have a doubt that he will perceive the importance to his country of returning to their bosom, where, we trust, he will soon be restored to his old honors, while he bestows, by his enlarged and liberal spirit, true glory upon the people of Venezuela, whose future happiness and prosperity he can so much extend and increase.

The Indian War in Oregon.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

FORT WALLA-WALLA, Oregon, Aug. 6, 1858.

Now we are collecting our troops for what is likely to be the most desperate Indian contest we have ever had. The programme is all settled at last, and two columns are to be formed to enter the Indian country. One, under Major GARNETT, from Simcoe; the other, from this place, to enter the Spekan country, and meet the tribes which defeated Col. STEPTOE. The latter is under Col. WRIGHT, Ninth Infantry. A short time since the detachment of the Third Artillery arrived here, after twelve days march from Fort Dalles. They are now ordered to advance sixty miles into the Indian country, and throw up fortifications on Snake river, to await our arrival with the rest of the column. They probably march to-morrow.

In the meanwhile we learn from scouts that the hostile tribes are in force to the number of nearly 3,000 warriors, awaiting our arrival, and they swear that as long as a single warrior is left, we shall not cross Snake river. They are the most warlike Indians on the Continent and thoroughly armed. Our column will consist of but seven hundred men, of whom a company will have to be left at the Fort on Snake river. We expect they will meet us, for they are flushed with their victory over Col. STEPTOE, and the probability is, we shall find them four to one. One of these days, after some hundreds of valuable lives are lost, Government will believe in the necessity of having troops enough in the field to overawe the Indian tribes.

I send you a list of the officers belonging to our column, that you and other friends may know where we are.

EXCELSIOR CLUB vs. GOTHAM CLUB.

A match took place at Elysian Fields, yesterday between the above Clubs, which, after a fine, although unequal display of playing, ended in a victory for the Excelsiors, on whose side the following gentleman aided more particularly in securing the victory: Messrs. DAYTON, LEGGETT, COLE, YOUNG, REYNOLDS, MARKHAM and BERGEN. On the Gothams' side, McCOSKER, BURTIS and COMMERFORD exceeded the rest, VAN COTT not being fortunate in his pitching and fielding, and TOOKER doing hardly anything in the match, rather unaccountable in such good players. The Gothamites entertained their late antagonists and a large number of members from other clubs to a most sumptuous dinner at the Elysian Fields Hotel, at which felicitous speeches were made by Judge VAN COTT, President of the Gothams; Dr. JONES, President of the Excelsiors; Mr. T. DAKIN, President of the Putnams; Mr. WADSWORTH, and others. A large number of visitors were on the ground to witness the match.

MONTREAL, CANADA EAST, VS. THE ST. GEORGE'S CLUB, NEW-YORK.—Mr. RIKERY, of Montreal, who protested against the late Canada match being called, all Canada has challenged the St. George's Club of this City, to play an Eleven against an Eleven from Montreal. The match has been accepted, and will be played at Hoboken about the 8th of October or perhaps earlier in the month.

THE TWELFTH OF SEPTEMBER.—The anniversary of the repulse of the British in their attack upon our city in the year 1812 was celebrated yesterday with unusual spirit. In addition to the customary parade and dinner of the Defenders, the solemnities of conveying to their final resting place, beneath the monument to be erected to their memory at Ashland-square of the relics of the young martyrs, WELLS and McCOMAS, took place and drew immense crowds into the streets to witness it. The procession was large and imposing, and the military in line made a very fine appearance. The funeral car, upon which were placed the coffins containing the remains of the young heroes, was chaste and elegant, and greatly admired. His Excellency, Governor HICKS, and his Honor Mayor SWANN, were in the funeral cortege, with members of both branches of the City Council. The streets and windows of the houses on the route of the procession were crowded with spectators, the ladies forming a large proportion. The solemnities at the depositing of the remains were highly interesting and the throng attracted to the locality very large. The day was a beautiful one and could not have been more propitious, the occasion exciting greater public interest than seems to have been expected. The Defenders spent the day very pleasantly at the Paradise House, whither they repaired at an early hour, where the usual observances took place. Altogether the anniversary has seldom been celebrated with so much éclat.—Baltimore American.

A New Battle of the Books—Statistics—State Temperance Convention—Townsend of the Echo—Troubles Coming up in the Boston Congressional Districts—Banks Down on Sumner—The K. N. State Convention—Gardner "at Large"—Profits of the Massachusetts Rum Agency, &c., &c.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

BOSTON, Monday, Sept. 13, 1858.

Boston is "pretty considerably agitated" at this time by School Committeemen about school-books. The majority of the Committee have recommended some books that others do not approve, and, from what I have heard, I should say the minority have the best of the argument, if the worst of the vote. It is bitterly complained of by parents that there should be so frequent changes of books made. Some go so far as to say that it would be cheaper to have private schools, over which parents might have control, than to keep up the public system for the benefit of parties to jobs. Without going so far as this, it is a serious grievance that not only should changes be made, but made for the worse. To pay even for a good thing is one of the infelicities of life but what a horrible thing to be forced to open one's purse for a poor thing! It is much the same as if a tenant were forced to move to the cellar of his house, with a rise in his rent to mitigate the unpleasantness of the fall. To manufacture school-books is a regular business here, and though it is good every way when an elegant scholar like Mr. HILLARD makes such books, there are none of the writers or compilers to be named on the same day with him. I have seen some of these manufactured articles that had almost as many blunders as paragraphs. They were "made to sell," and their sale was attended with this advantage, that the purchasers were sold as completely as the books

This is the season of cattle shows, horse fairs, (alias races,) and so forth, in New-England. If the orators who "do" the addresses on these occasions only knew something about agriculture, cattle, etc. the occasions themselves would be perfect. Some of them own a little earth, in flower pots, and others may be considered practical agriculturists in respect to the diligence with which they used to sow wild oats. The list of celebrations in Massachusetts for September and October is long as your arm and broad as a table-cloth.

Mr. TOWNSEND, master of the slaver Echo, was brought before Commissioner LORING, on Saturday but nothing new was elicited. The examination will be resumed on the 21st. The farce, I suppose, will be played out; for it is a farce, and TOWNSEND has just about the same danger of being punished that BURNS had of getting his freedom. The jurisdiction dodge is already in course of use, and under it the captain will dodge the statute, which it was never meant to enforce. It was passed to conciliate the North at the time of the Missouri controversy, and was no more meant to be a live thing by the South than the North ought to allow any life to the fugitive slave law.

The State Temperance Convention will meet here to-morrow, in Tremont Temple, and is expected to be a spirited assemblage. Some noted professional reformers will be present, of whom NEAL DOW is the first, the "great attraction," and "star." The temperance people, politically, are not the grand folk they used to be. The Republicans are so strong, now that they have swallowed some fifteen or twenty thousand Americans, that they are not obliged to cringe before the bottle-breakers. In former times, the exigences of politics made these people personages, and now they are merely persons. However, they have got as much law as they can reasonably desire, and ought to be content; but then they are a very unreasonable set of people, and would like to have an unconstitutional act passed for their use They wish for a rigor beyond the law, and to get at rum would not hesitate to shed blood. What took place in Portland, three years ago, under the Dow régime, shows what their idea of Government is But they must abate a little of their zeal now, seeing that the strong-breathed politicians, who used to do their work, can now afford to laugh at their threats. Those threats were serious things in 1852 but they are of no account in 1858. The statute of limitations has been applied to them, and BANKS can't be ruined, after the fashion that BOUTWELL was, if he should bid these reformers go to a quarter where, if they have punch at all, it must be deused hot, and with a great deal more of lemon than of sugar in it, and where ice-cream can't "keep"

The Broadway Horse Railroad, connecting South Boston with the city proper, was opened on Saturday, with the usual eating, drinking, and talking ceremonies. The road will be a great convenience, and has been leased at 8 per cent.

The statistics of Gloucester show the annual valuation to be $3,780,785, being an increase of $53,571 in one year. The taxation, for all purposes, is $37,-656 58, a decrease of more than six thousand dollars since '57. The rate of taxation is $9 per $1,000; and while the poll tax is raised in other places, Gloucester puts it at $1 only. Gloucester is one of the most flourishing places in the country, and as a seaport she is rapidly rising to the highest rank in New-England. The fisheries carried on there are the source of extensive and diversified labor, and of great opulence. As a fish market, Gloucester stands as high as New-Bedford in the oil business; and in tonnage the only ports in Massachusetts ahead of her are New-Bedford and Boston.

The valuation of New-Bedford shows, of personal estate, $16,559,100; of real estate, $9,873,200. The latter has increased to the extent of $230,100 in a year, while the former has depreciated $1,337,200. The aggregate falling off is $1,107,100. The rate of taxation is $8 50, showing a reduction of 40 cents in a thousand dollars, while the poll-tax is increased from $1 50 to $2 The largest non-resident property holder of New-Bedford is CHARLES H. LEONARD, of New-York, who is assessed $1,472 20, on property valued at $173,200. The largest resident tax payer is JAMES ARNOLD, whose bill is $5,270. How he must love the tax gatherer! There are nearly seven hundred individuals, firms and corporations in the place paying taxes of $50 and upwards. The whale-catching city has no cause of complaint in the article of property. Her lines have been cast in pleasant places, because her citizens have known how to cast harpoons into fat whales.

The beautiful town of Quincy has been much troubled by incendiaries, and eight young men have been arrested. Three are implicated by the confession of one of the number, whose confessions show that it is not altogether unreasonable to believe in special instances of total depravity. There is much excitement in the town, as well there may be

The Worcester statistics show the valuation of property in that city to be $16,388,000, being a decrease of considerably over two millions in one year. The rate of taxation is $8 per $1,000, a diminution of $1 since 1857. The poll tax is $1 70, a reduction of 15 per cent. The number of polls have fallen off 240. There are 448 persons and firms who pay taxes of the amount of $50 and upwards; three who pay over $100, and one who pays over $5,000.

The Republican Worcester County Convention will meet on the 7th of October, in Worcester City, to nominate candidates for Register of Deeds, Register of Probate and Insolvency, County Commissioner and County Treasurer. We have quite a number of local officers to choose in the rural counties.

Now that other things are going right, troubles are again showing themselves in our two Boston Congressional Districts. Some of the Roxbury Americans are indignant because the Republican State Convention have selected ultras from Norfolk County for members of the State Committee, instead of taking moderates from that quarter. Roxbury belongs to the Fourth District, and if there should be an émeute there, the effect might be bad on both our Boston Districts, which must go together. There are other sources of trouble; but I hope for better things, and that the good understanding that was effected about a fortnight since will enable us to elect two opponents of the Administration.

On dit, that the resolution passed by the Republican State Convention calling upon Senators and Representatives to attend closely to their duties, and which has been interpreted to reflect upon Mr. SUMNER's absence from his post, was written by Governor BANKS, with the view of aiding his own Senatorial aspirations. Personally, I know nothing of the fact, but my informant is one likely to be correct. I am certain the Convention meant no reflection on Mr. SUMNER, and it would have stultified itself had it knowingly condemned the man in one resolution whom it warmly applauded in another. It is certain, however, that the Committee on Resolutions stifled a resolution bearing directly upon Mr SUMNER and his Senatorship, introduced by Mr. LE BARON, a high-minced Republican, the object of which was to leave no doubt on the public mind of the high regard of the Convention for Mr SUMNER, and the earnest desire of its members that he should retain his seat, which, I am authorized to say, he will do so long as he lives and has a legal right to it.

Mr HALE, of the Advertiser, has been placed on the Back Bay Commission, vice Mr. ELY, resigned. Mr ELY, report says, resigned to prevent his removal; and report says that the cause of the Governor's anger was a remark to the effect that the Governor was only waiting to be bribed to adopt a certain course with respect to the Back Bay lands. It was, if uttered, a mighty imprudent speech That the attention which has been drawn to this Back Bay business has prevented, or suspended, some discreditable deeds, I have no doubt whatever. It is but justice to Mr. ELY to say that he was a faithful Commissioner, and did his work well.

The first call for a Republican Congressional Convention is in the last, or eleventh district, now represented by Mr DAWS It will meet on the 5th of October. [I'm wrong the Fourth District Republican Convention will be held Sept. 28.]

The Boston Theatre will open this evening with "Love's Sacrifice" and "Sarah's Young Man." The company is a strong one, numbering Mesdames Barry, E. L. Davenport, Marshall, France, Burroughs and E. Adams, and Misses Devlin, Crampton, J. Orton, Lizzie Emmons, F. France, Marshall, Heany, Burbank, Hayward and Kuhn. The gentlemen are Barry, Price, E. Adams, E. L. Davenport, Charles Bass, George Holland, Setchell, Rose, Horton, Curtis, Cunningham, Lingman, Davenport, Lelevin, Reed, J Adams, Daymond, Stephens, Finn and Davis. Mr. Manager BARRY retains his old post, assisted by Mr. J. P. PRICE. Mr. CONNER is at the head of the musical department.

The attempts that have been made to postpone the Know-Nothing State Convention have failed, and that potent body will meet on Wednesday, the 15th. Colonel THOMPSON, of the Executive Council, Ex-Governor GARDNER, and GEORGE W. GORDON, the Fillmore candidate for Governor in 1856, are among the delegates chosen from this city, or at large. That Colonel THOMPSON should come out is all proper, for he does not count the numbers of his party, but has regard to its principles; but it is alarmingly strange that GARDNER should do so, for it may cost him a dime, and he would care more about a half-dime than he would for his own soul—and he would be right, for the latter is infinitely the less valuable article of the two. But that he should take an active part in the doings of a weak organization, the expenses of which he will be called upon to pay, is so unaccountable that it is thought his intellects are disordered, the consequence of his terrible fall when he tried to get a fourth Gubernatorial term To drop from 92,000 votes to 37,000 was as fatal to him as was another "drop" to the late Mr. J. MCKEE, and he seems to be as long dying as was that worthy. He ought to keep out of politics, if he is not willing to pay the cost of them, they being notoriously unprofitable, and destructive to the pecuniary interest of those who are engaged in their pursuit. His father's death was immensely profitable to the Ex-Governor, who is said to be "worth" a million, which strikes one with awe—for his money; and yet he is so penurious that he would pay (he says "give") only $50 towards defraying the expenses of a party that three times made him Governor of Massachusetts—I mean the expenses of their head-quarters, for he did, with many groans, and with a parting that was anything but a "sweet sorrow" to him, pay some of the expenses that were caused by his elections at different times to the Governor's chair, which chair he occupied, but never filled.

They are having a fine day for their election in Maine, where the Republicans are expecting a triumph as great, almost, as that which they had in Vermont last week We shall know to-morrow how just are their expectations. The Democrats are making a very pretty fight there.

Friday next will be the anniversary of the settlement of Boston, which interesting event occurred 228 years ago; and there will be a sort of holiday, giving us burnt powder, music, and a military review on the Common, and a half day for play or mischief to our over-taught scholars. If we had fifty holidays a year it would be a blessing to the boys and girls, and I would be content to leave it to them to decide upon the question of having them.

I am afraid you over-estimate the profits of my friend GEORGE BURNHAM, who has so benevolently undertaken to supply all the thirsty souls (and bodies) of Massachusetts with sound liquors for a consideration. You say that two years' profits of the Liquor Agency enable a man to retire with a competency. GEORGE is not of a retiring disposition, and if he should be content with the said profits he would be uncommonly modest. He tells me that the annual profits are about $3,500, and I don't think he is much out of the way; and can you conscientiously assert that such a sum is equal to the merits of a modern patriot? The idea that prevails as to the enormous profits of the Agency proceeds from the supposition that the Agent has a monopoly of the rum business. It would be a new thing if it were so, and the Agent then might make a profit in two months sufficient to satisfy even the demands of avarice. The profit of the rum monopoly, could such a monopoly be had, would constitute such a Pactolian stream as never before was poured into any human being's pockets. There is as much liquor consumed in this State now as ever there was, and the attempts that have been made to lessen intemperance by legislation have been the most signal of failures, as sublime in their inception as ridiculous in their result Politicians alone have profited from them, and it is to be noted that, with the exception of General WILSON and one or two others, there is not a political temperance man who is not capable, from experience, of carrying off as much whisky as would set an ordinary man asleep, even at an Irish wake. The Liquor Agency is as complete a humbug as ever existed, so far as temperance is concerned: but it is a vivid reality in respect to its usefulness in the way of rewarding gentlemen who prop up decaying newspapers with their capital. Rum has occasionally been employed to conserve the body of some noted personage, who liked its internal application when he was in the flesh; but here it is used to keep things alive that men and nature doomed to die. The elixir of life is here contained in a rum jug.

New-York Advertising Agencies—The Bogus and the Real.

The Advertising Agencies in this City have become so numerous, that it is a matter of no inconsiderable difficulty to decide upon the degree of their reliability. From the complaints of the Country Press, it is clearly evident that many of the establishments which pretend to do a legitimate advertising business in the City are simply bogus concerns in which it is unsafe to trust. Advertisers and publishers have been alike victimized by speculators, and a proper degree of caution should be observed in the bestowal of patronage. Among the Agencies which have established a high reputation for probity and intelligence, we are able to speak with confidence of the house of S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., of this City, whose engagements are always fulfilled to the letter, and whose facilities for advertising are not surpassed by those of any other establishment. This house is well established, and enjoys a very large connection with the Press in all the principal cities and towns in the Union.

The New-Orleans Picayune refers, in the following complimentary terms, to Messrs. PETTENGILL & Co.:

"There are none of our State cotemporaries, we believe, who have not suffered materially from having advertised for parties abroad, who have not paid their bills, or received orders through agencies which have received the money paid, and appropriated it themselves, instead of paying it over to those to whom it legitimately belonged. It is impossible for the proprietors of papers, in the country especially, to know the character and responsibility of all who send casual work for them to perform, either as principals or agents; and the best plan for them to pursue, in order to avoid being imposed upon in this respect, is to form a connection with a reliable agency, which will relieve them of all care and risk for a moderate compensation. We have, for a long time, availed ourselves of this advantage, and have greatly profited by it. Messrs. S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., of New-York, who devote themselves entirely to this branch of business, are among those who have acted for us, and we have satisfaction in saying that we have found them all we could expect, and in recommending them to the confidence of those newspaper proprietors who may wish to follow the course we recommend. They sustain a similarly high reputation throughout the country,"

The Mobile Advertiser has the following notice of the same house:

"We have noticed of late in several of our country exchanges much complaint of the non-payment of bills for Northern advertising, and many grave charges of swindling, &c. There are, without doubt, great numbers of worthless fellows at the North who impose upon the Press by sending advertisements for which they never expect to pay, and our cotemporaries are right in suspecting them. We have been taken in a few times ourselves, but of late years we have adopted a course which has proved eminently satisfactory. We now receive foreign advertisements through a regularly established and reliable advertising agency, which becomes directly responsible for all the business it sends. In this way none but good or paying advertisements are received, and, for a reasonable percentage, we are relieved of all the trouble of collections, the danger of loss from bad debts, &c. But it is essential to the success of this plan that the agency itself should be in every respect trustworthy, and we take pleasure in naming to our cotemporaries of the Press the house of S. M. PETTENGILL & Co, New-York, as containing all the requisite for a safe and profitable agency. We have done business with this firm for many years, and have always found them prompt, energetic, accurate and business like—ready at all times to meet their engagements, and never cavilling at the terms of contracts once made. They have been of great service to us, not only in the large business we annually transact with them, but in securing for us payment for printing on outside contracts, made before we learned to discourage applications for advertising in New-York except through our regular agents."

These are but specimens of many notices of similar purport, given by leading papers in the country.

Saint Thomas.

Our. St. Thomas files report that: "H. B. M. steam-sloop Buzzard, FRANCIS PEEL, Commander, arrived there on the 22d Aug., from Laguayra, where she left on Wednesday last. From the information we are able to gather, the Buzzard came here for the purpose of conveying to Laguayra FREDDOTTON ORME, Esq., a newly-appointed British Chargé d' Affaires to Venezuela, a gentleman who had been residing here some weeks, and whose functions in that Republic are destined to begin as soon as the existing authorities there shall have answered the requirements of the French and English Governments, (i. e., the release of General MONAGAS.) As Mr. ORME had already proceeded in the packet Ysabel, that left here on the 18th, the steamer, after coaling, and although under sealed orders, it is thought will return directly to Laguayra. We already announced in our issue of the 14th inst that the relations between the British- and French Governments and that of Venezuela had terminated on the 11th, the respective Ambassies closed, and at last accounts Mr. BINGHAM was on board of the corvette Tartar, and Mons. LEVRAUD had proceeded in the Lucifer, (French steamer) to Martinique. All the vessels under Venezuelan colors in the port of Laguayra had been taken possession of by the Allied ships, and the port declared to be under blockade, but open to neutral vessels until such time as due notification can be given by the French and English Admirals on the West India station, who, it is said, are now sending an efficient force for the effectual blockade of the entire sea board of Venezuela."

The Republican and American Conventions at Syracuse—What they Did and what they Failed to Do—The Reasons Therefor.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

ALBANY, Friday, Sept. 10, 1858.

The result of the meeting of the two Conventions at Syracuse, on the 8th, is before the public. A faithful history of the proceeding remains to be written. No one doubts that a majority of the people, on the principal issues of the day, think alike. The reasons why they were not permitted to act together remain to be stated.

When the Republican State Committee met in Albany, some time in July last, to agree upon the time and place of holding their State Nominating Convention, it was made known, to some of the members at least, that the 13th of September would be as early a day as would be consistent with the idea of the meeting of the American and Republican State Conventions, on the same day, since the day for the holding the American Convention could not be designated before the 24th of August, when its State Council would meet for that purpose. Notwithstanding this, the Republican Committee fixed the meeting of their Convention as early as the 8th of September, which gave less than two weeks to the Americans between the notification and assembling of the Convention. Nevertheless, the American State Council did agree to go to Syracuse on the 8th of September; and although the time for choosing delegates was all too brief, an effort, under a clear sense of what was due to the all but universal desire among the anti Democratic masses for a union, would accomplish it. That effort was made; and on the 8th a full American Convention appeared at Syracuse, four fifths, if not all of them, ardently desiring a union on a single ticket, on terms that would be honorable to themselves, and satisfactory to their constituents. Indeed, they had gone to Syracuse for that distinct purpose, so avowed, and not doubted anywhere.

Both Conventions were remarkable for the character of the men composing them. The Republican especially so, embracing, as it did, more of the experienced, clear-sighted, well trained leaders, mostly of the old Whig school, than were ever before known to meet in a single Convention. The extinction of the American Party had so frequently been predicted that many had come to believe it. The assembling, therefore, of a full American Convention, not a whit behind the Republicans in intelligence, in honesty of purpose, force of character, and all the elements of influence, after a call of ten days, was indeed remarkable. It was evident that the presence of the Americans at Syracuse on the 8th was extremely distasteful to the Republican leaders, who did not desire a union, and were from the first bent on defeating one.

Both Conventions assembled—the Erie Canal "rolling between;" or, in other words, in separate halls, on the different sides of the Canal. The Americans having made the first advance and concession, waited for the Republicans to take the next step toward union. It was very tardily taken in the Republican Convention, consuming the entire first day to accomplish it. A Committee of Conference was finally appointed. The American Convention promptly appointed a corresponding Committee. The Committees met in joint Convention, and, after mature deliberation, agreed upon four points of principles, two of the Republican Committee dissenting, one of whom was the Hon. ALONZO S. UPHAM, late Senator from the Twenty-ninth District. It was agreed to report these four points of principles to the respective Conventions, as so much progress toward the great object for which all but certain leaders supposed the two Conventions had assembled. When the report was made in the Republican Convention, six of the Committee agreeing to it and two only dissenting, there arose a storm of opposition; and from that moment, it was plainly to be seen that union was no easy matter. The proposition that there should be a probation of one year between naturalization and voting was furiously assailed. It was declared that the foreigners now belonging to the Republican Party would forsake it if that proposition was adopted; and although it was ably argued that the principle already existed in the Constitution, and there existed a strong necessity for its more vigorous application, yet the few foreign votes that now are given to the Republicans seemed to be regarded as of more importance. The debate in the Report resulted in referring it to the Committee on Resolutions, which was in effect discharging the Committee of Conference, and therefore closing the door of negotiation for a union. This result is mainly due to the efforts of Mr. WEED, Mr. UPHAM, Mr. POMEROY, of Auburn WARD HUNT, and Mr. TALCOTT, of Buffalo. The better judgment, the well-defined purpose, and clear intent of at least two-thirds of the Republican Convention was thus overruled at the outset.

In the American Convention, the report of the Committee of Conference, though not in many respects what was wished, was, nevertheless, after a free debate, adopted and sent by a special Committee to the Republican Convention. The proceedings at this point should be specially noted. The message sent from the American to the Republican Convention, was in these words:

To the President of the Republican Convention:

The Americans in Convention assembled at Syracuse, Sept. 9, P. M., 1858, have adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the American Party is in favor of coöperating with the Republican Party upon honorable terms in a common effort to overthrow the present corrupt and profligate Federal Administration in the ensuing canvass in this State, and with this view adopt the report of the Committee of Conference appointed to confer with the Committee of Conference from the Republican Convention, and that the President of this Convention be requested to transmit to the Republican Convention notice of this action.

In compliance with the above resolution, I have the honor to transmit this communication.

DANIEL ULLMANN,
President American State Convention.

This communication, as has been stated, was immediately and formally transmitted to the Republican Convention by a Committee of three On their appearance there, and on it being known that there was a communication to be made from the Americans, there was deep sensation. The result of the first ballot for candidate for Governor was about to be announced; there was necessarily or unnecessarily, some delay, but finally, after consultation among the leading Republicans, in which Mr. WEED expressed a desire to have another ballot taken, (which it was seen would result in Mr MORGAN's nomination,) the American Committee were introduced by General NYE. They formally stated the reason of their presence, and handed their written communication to the President of the Republican Convention. From that moment to this not the slightest notice has been taken of it by the Republican Convention! The American Committee retired, and the balloting for Mr. MORGAN went on.

Now what do we see? The Americans follow the Republicans to Syracuse. After much delay the Republicans appointed a Committee of Conference, and the Americans met them promptly, with a like Committee. A Report is agreed on, in which six of the eight Republicans, and all the American Committee coincide. That Report is made to the Conventions severally. In the Republican Convention the Report is virtually rejected, and the Committee of Conference discharged. In the American Convention it is promptly and heartily adopted, and information of that fact at once transmitted to the Republican Convention, but the communication was suffered to lie unopened and unread. The Americans felt "the savage slight." But they did not resent it as they might have done. They had come there to open the way for the masses who thought alike to act together, and they were going to do nothing at all inconsistent with that purpose. They waited in the vain hope that something would occur to thwart the designs of the opposing leaders which had now become all too apparent. They did wait, and after much vexatious delay, there came to the American Convention from the Republicans a brief written communication to the effect that, although there were some differences between the Republicans and Americans, yet it was hoped and believed an agreement might be had on a common ticket! And this, too, after the Republican Convention had actually nominated a Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and rejected the report of the Committee of Conference, though it was not deemed of sufficient consequence on the part of the Republicans to inform the Americans of either fact.

And yet the Americans waited. Their firmness of purpose was none the less, however. They only hoped that delay, though humiliating to them, might result in opening the door of an honorable union; that the "sober second thought" might return to the Republicans, and the popular voice obeyed, in preference to the dictation of certain party leaders. In the course of time, another Committee of Republicans appeared in the American Convention, who stated they were sorry to hear the Americans were not satisfied with what had been done, and feared that some mistake had been made. The Americans respectfully listened. Mr. ULLMANN informed the Committee that the American Convention had no knowledge, save what rumor had furnished, of the action of the Republican Convention, beyond the brief written communication referred to above. The Committee said it was intended to transmit with that communication the resolutions which had been adopted in the Republican Convention. Mr. ULLMANN inquired whether the four points had been adopted. The Committee said they had been, slightly modified! Another member of the Committee stated that the four points had been adopted precisely as they were reported by the Committee of Conference. Just as the dispute among the Republican Committeemen was getting to be interesting, Mr. H. H. VAN DYCK, on behalf of himself, as Chairman of the Republican Committee on Resolutions, appeared on the stand and begged to "make an explanation." He said there was evidently a misunderstanding somewhere; that somehow or other matters had gone all wrong, and expressed the hope that they might be righted. This gentleman, whose honesty of purpose and personal character was nowhere more highly respected than in the American Convention, was evidently embarrassed and mortified at what had now come to be too apparent—that all hopes of union had been jeopardized, if not entirely destroyed, by acts of commission or omission by the Republican Convention. Mr. VAN DYCK proceeded at length in his explanations, in the course of which another Committee from the Republican (all self-appointed, it is understood) appeared for the purpose of more explanations! They were received, though the laugh could not be wholly suppressed. They said it was supposed that the Republican Resolutions had been transmitted to the Americans; but finding that they had not been, they had gone to the printing-office and procured a printed slip for the Americans to read. It was read, but no one was able to discover, in all the great length and breadth of those resolutions, the four points said to have been adopted, either "modified" or otherwise. It is now said that even those resolutions are not the ones adopted by the Republican Convention! At any rate such is the assertion of Republican delegates now. About this time a communication, a verbal one, was received from the Republican Convention, stating that they had nominated candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, and asking what they, the Americans, had to say.

It was then that the Americans, smarting under the neglect, the small tricks, the "explanations," and general course of action by the Republican Convention, declared "the door of negotiation closed." General SCROGGS, in a powerful speech, reviewed the whole case. He was listened to by very many Republican delegates, who confessed to the inevitable conclusions to which he arrived. Mr. BROOKS and others spoke to the same effect, calmly, earnestly, never so eloquently, because they felt hurt—because they knew they had been trifled with, all hopes of union blasted, and the people cheated by party leaders.

It now being late, tea time, the American Convention took a recess, the first business on reassembling being the nomination of a candidate for Governor. The Americans went out of Corinthian Hall with heads erect—they had made their record! They would go to the people on it, confident of their approval. The responsibility of having defeated a union lay at the door of the Republican Convention, or rather on the heads of certain managers That was confessed, and no one could or would be found denying it.

The hour for the evening session to meet was 7 o'clock. The delegates were promptly on hand, but the Presidents did not come till half an hour later. Realizing their position now to the fullest, the Republicans were moving heaven and earth, as it were, to repair it. Several of the most prominent ones had called on Mr. ULLMANN and other leading American delegates, to see if something could not be done. How desperate must be the condition of things that leads THURLOW WEED to beseech the interposition and saving coöperation of DANIEL ULLMANN Mr. ULLMANN, on calling the American Convention to order, intimated that from what had come to his knowledge, he believed it would be expedient to postpone the special order for a brief time After some debate, a postponement was had, when another committee from the Republican Convention was announced! Mr. BENJ. WELSH, in handsome terms, on the part of himself and his Republican associates, deplored the unfortunate state of things; he was satisfied that there had been some misunderstanding, to repair which this Committee had been appointed to meet an American Committee of Conference. On a motion to appoint such a Committee, the American Convention became breezy. Delegates thought there had been delay and trifling enough; nevertheless, after an highly animated discussion, the original American Committee of Conference, of which Mr. ERASTUS BROOKS was chairman, was charged with the duty of meeting the Republican Committee Though it was now late in the evening, they did so, patiently, and in the most conciliatory manner. The Republicans wished and hoped earnestly, but proposed nothing. The Americans at once took the ground, as a "condition precedent," that the Republicans must undo what they had done, back to the hour the original Committee of Conference was appointed, commence de novo, and the Americans would spend a week, if necessary, in attempts at union. This the Republican Committee peremptorily declined to do, and these facts were reported to the two Conventions by the several Committees. In less than ten minutes thereafter the Americans had their candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, Messrs. BURROWS and BENTON, nominated by acclamation, and the remainder nominated by ballot. The rest of the business of the Convention was done up in less than half an hour, including the appointment of a State Committee, charged with the immediate duty of issuing an address, narrating the history of those remarkable two days and those no less remarkable two Conventions.

It should not be left out of view that the Americans would have at any time taken Governor KING and sent Governor SELDEN as compromise or union candidates, with the four points for a basis But these gentlemen and these terms the Republicans persistently rejected.

The leaders led the Republican Convention along with a steady step, and effectual, until alarm seized them so that they could not longer disguise it, to disregard the Americans, not to know them, or that there was any such Convention in town.

It is an anomalous fact that more than two-thirds of both Conventions were earnestly in favor of union, and yet could not unite. They were, indeed, scarcely permitted to communicate with each other! The fact stands out plain as the glaring sun at unclouded noonday, that the Opposition have not been permitted to unite and act together because the Republican leaders would not let them—because such a union was inconsistent with the present and ultimate designs of those leaders. This all who run may read.

AMERICAN MISSIONS.

Annual Meeting of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions at Detroit.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

DETROIT, Thursday, Sept 9, 1858.

Yesterday, a long debate occurred at the meeting of the American Board on a series of resolutions presented by Dr. POMEROY. Two of the resolutions were as follows:

Resolved, That the times of refreshing which we have recently enjoyed, impose upon us still higher obligations to praise the God of our salvation. The generous and steadfast friends of missions are largely reinforced; the piety of our churches is more fully developed, so that we may look for a corresponding increase of their alms and their prayers, as also a freer consecration of their sons and daughters to Him who hath need of them; and we have new evidence that the Spirit of promise is soon to go forth among the nations in the greatness of his strength.

Resolved. That with these tokens of the Divine favor we must needs connect the sudden and extraordinary unvailing of Africa to the Christian world, and the mighty changes which, in all the lands of the East, the Lord is initiating, whereby he is rapidly preparing the way for the gospel of his Son never forgetting that, by an event that is now filling the world with surprise and joy, time and space are in some sort annihilated, so that the missions of Asia are brought nearer than ever to the quickened pulsations of our own Christian life, and we are taken nearer than ever to the battle fields whereon the Captain of our salvation is to achieve his noblest victories.

A number of missionaries and others gave interesting statements of the condition of the mission work The President then announced the members of Committees. The Chairmen appointed were as follows:

| | |
|---|---|
| Home Department | the Rev. A. Warner. |
| African Missions | Dr. Pierce. |
| American Mission | Dr. Willard Child. |
| Greece and Syria | the Rev. H. S. Hitchcock. |
| Assyrian and Nestorian | the Rev. J. C. Holbrook. |
| Mahratta | Dr. Patterson. |
| Tamil | Dr. Beman. |
| China | Dr Chapin. |
| S Islands and Micronesia | Chancellor Walworth. |
| N A Indians, No. 1 | Dr. Bacon. |
| N. A. Indians, No. 2 | the Rev. D. Green. |

The remaining proceedings of yesterday were not especially important.

This morning the Committee on the place of meeting and selection of a preacher for the next meeting of the Board, made a report recommending the following action: Place of meeting, Philadelphia, Penn.; Preacher, the Rev. ROBERT W. PATTERSON, D. D., of Chicago; Substitute, the Rev. EDWARD A. PARK, Andover, Mass. They also recommended that the time of meeting be changed to the first Tuesday in October, and that any further change should be left to the discretion of the Prudential Committee.

The Rev. PETER PARKER, formerly U. S. Commissioner to China, gave interesting reminiscences of his twenty-five years' residence in that land, confining himself more particularly to some circumstances having a bearing on the present condition of affairs. In 1844 the Rev. Mr. BRIDGMAN and himself were applied to by the Hon. Mr. CUSHING, to act as interpreters in the negotiations in which he was engaged. As his mission was one of peace, they consented to undertake the office. For some time the progress of affairs was not satisfactory. Finally the Chinese Commissioners came to Dr. PARKER to ask his opinion of Mr. CUSHING's character, and whether he was seeking to injure China. Dr. P. replied: "I have been yours and your fathers' physician; I would have part in nothing which has a tendency to injure Chinese interests. As to Mr. CUSHING's character, he is an honest and an upright man, but he has 'fire inside.' If you put obstacles in his way he will go over them or brush them aside. You cannot stop him."

From that hour the course of matters changed. Knowing that the graves of foreigners had been violated, Dr. P. had an article inserted in the treaty guaranteeing their sanctity; also that hospitals should be established at the different ports. An article guaranteeing the sanctity of places of worship was also added. Finally the privilege of free worship was secured. Mr. VENN, of the Church Missionary Society, acknowledged to Dr. P. that all the advantages the English missionaries enjoyed they owed to treaties made by American Ministers. Their own Ambassadors cared only for commercial advantages, while ours looked out for religious interests as well. Dr. P. believed that the treaty, the announcement of which had just been received, would be found to be only carrying out the details of those which had already been made. The Chinese religion is doomed. God—and he would say it reverently—is at work in China. This Board must wake to its responsibility. A brother yesterday asked for 15 000 missionaries to supply that field. Though that number could be profitably occupied, there are 30,000 needed there to-day. The Roman Catholics are in advance of us At Hong Kong they have a college, where they are educating their priests for labor among the people, and their schools there are under perfect discipline. With regard to the British and American merchants in China a word should be said. They have some faults which should be prayed for, but much, very much, which is commendable, has been done by them. Dr. P. himself had received most invaluable aid from them. Contributions, in all amounting to $30,000, had been made by them, for the support of the hospitals.

The Rev. Mr. PEET, who is soon to return to his field of labor in China, made mention of the different religions they had to contend with. Confucius was not a religious teacher, but a politician. He told the people to respect the Gods, but to keep them at a distance. But they could never reach a knowledge of the true God without the Gospel. For 3,000 years they have been making the experiment and it has proved a failure.

The Rev. Mr. WHEELER, from Bad River, Wis., contradicted the idea that the Indian could not be civilized.

Mr. RIGGS, from the Dacotas on the Minnesota River, spoke of the policy of removing Indians. It has always been done, and now continues to be done, simply to gratify the white man's avarice. Their land is coveted. While they are subjected to these continual changes it is impossible to free them from all their savage habits. The tide of civilization should roll by and surround them and not be continually sweeping them before it.

Mr WILDER, of the Kohlapoor Mission, spoke of India. Much had been said of the great West. After traveling over a large part of it he had come to the conclusion that you could put two like it into the great East, whence he had come. Within ten miles around the city where he lived when in India there were 120 000 people. His parish (Kohlapoor) contained 550 000 persons. It has been said God has intrusted India to England. Can this be so, when the officials of that Company have done so much to hinder the progress of Christianity? He had known them to tear the Ten Commandments from the school books intended for the use of the natives, to prevent their getting the least knowledge of Christianity. When he left Kohlapoor an English official took possession of his house. Upon being remonstrated with, he declared with an oath that he would occupy it, and that no Missionary should ever again come to Kohlapoor. These remarks were made from no feeling of hostility towards the English

But now came the business for which the reporters had been longing Thus far there had been no stirring debates. No questions had come up which were spicy enough to point a paragraph, and there were grounds to hope that "something would turn up" now, for rumor had been busy before the beginning of the morning session, circulating the report that Dr. BACON, the Chairman of the Committee on the North American Indian Missions, would drop hot shot into conservative ranks, and attempt to regain for the Anti-Slavery men what they lost at the Tract Society meeting last May.

The afternoon was to be devoted to a celebration of the Lord's Supper, and the morning to the farewell addresses, so speeches yet to come would need to be pretty well condensed. Soon Dr. B. reappeared on the platform. During the reading of his report, the house was stiller than usual, and when, on his completing it, its adoption was moved, seconded, and carried, without a dissenting vote, every one was taken by surprise, and the excitement-hunters were disappointed. The report, however, is the most important by far which has been presented during the meeting, though it is brief, for with its adoption, the Slavery question seems to be forever put at rest so far as this Board is concerned.

THE REV. DR. BACON'S REPORT ON THE NORTH AMERICAN INDIAN MISSION NO. 1.

The Committee to whom was referred that part of the annual report entitled North American Indians, No. 1, have had the same under consideration, and respectfully report, that the missions included in the document which was referred to this Committee are the mission to the Dakotas and those to the partially civilized nations in the Indian Territory.

At Hartford, in 1854, the views of the Board were clearly and definitely expressed in regard to certain laws and acts of the Choctaw Government which were designed to restrain the liberty of the missionaries as teachers of God's Word. All the action of the Board since that date, and, so far as we are informed, the action of the Prudential Committee also, has been in conformity with the principles then put upon record.

Your Committee have reason to believe that the position of our missionaries among the Choctaws is one of much difficulty and peril. Among the various religious bodies in the States nearest to the Choctaw nation, there has been, as is well known, within the last twenty-five years, a lamentable defection from some of the first and most elementary ideas of Christian morality, insomuch that Christianity has been represented as the warrant for oppression and Christ as the minister of sin. Our brethren among the Choctaws are in ecclesiastical relations with religious bodies in the adjoining State—the States from which the leading Choctaws are deriving their notions of civilization and of government. In those neighboring States, and in the Choctaw Nation, the missionaries are watched by the upholders of Slavery, who are ready to seize upon the first opportunity of expelling them from the field in which they have so long been laboring. By the enemies of the Board and of the missionaries, our brethren are charged with what are called in those regions the dangerous doctrines of abolitionism. At the same time they are charged in other quarters, with the guilt of silence in the presence of a great and hideous wickedness.

It seems to your Committee desirable that the Board should be relieved as early as possible from the increasing embarrassments and perplexities connected with the missions in the Indian Territory. Surely the time is not far distant when the Choctaw and Cherokee Indians, and half breeds, will stand in precisely the same relations to the missionary work with the white people of the adjacent States, and when the churches there will be the subject of home missionary, more properly than of foreign missionary patronage.

On the whole, your Committee, with these suggestions, recommend that the report of the Prudential Committee, as referred to them, be accepted and approved. In behalf of the Committee,

LEONARD BACON, Chairman.

DETROIT, Sept. 9, 1858.

At the close of communion services this afternoon, Judge JESSUP, the Vice-President, called the members of the Board to order. Dr. AIKEN, from the Committee on the election of officers and new members, reported that it was deemed inexpedient to elect any new corporate members. They recommended the reëlection of the present officers for the ensuing year. Their report was adopted, and the officers unanimously reëlected.

The Rev. Dr. BACON moved a reconsideration of his morning report, for the purpose of amending a single sentence, so that it might read as follows: "Among the various religious bodies in the States nearest to the Choctaw Nation, there has been, as is well known, within the last twenty-five years, a lamentable defection from some of the first and most elementary ideas of Christian morality, insomuch that Christianity has been represented as the warrant for a system of slavery which offends the moral sense of the Christian world, and thereby Christ has been represented as the minister of sin" The amendment was adopted without debate, and the Board adjourned

A few items of business remained to be cleared away at the evening session, that the farewell greeting in the morning might be shortened, to give individuals an opportunity of leaving for the East by the early trains. The resolutions offered by the Prudential Committee on the second day of the session were unanimously adopted.

Dr. BROWN, the Chairman of the Committee to whom the Treasurer's report was referred, recommended that it be adopted. In addition he suggested that agencies should be abolished and that while they did exist returned missionaries should be employed.

It is estimated that there have been in attendance on the meetings of the Board about 2 000 persons. The Committee of Arrangements have furnished places for about 1,400 of them; 500, probably, have taken care of themselves. The exact number of those coming into town from adjacent places, and returning at night, cannot, of course, be determined. Of the entire number 53 were corporate, and 224 honorary, members of the Board. It is a remarkable fact that not a single Boston pastor was in attendance. This probably has not occurred before since the organization of the Board.

The meeting itself cannot be said to have equaled in interest the former meetings. It was evident when the Prudential Committee offered their resolutions that no very exciting topics would come up for discussion, a mistake seeming to have been made in not assigning specific topics to specific speakers, as heretofore. As a consequence of this much time was spent in the utterance of vague generalities instead of that earnest pointed speaking which has so often given life and interest to these occasions.

THE CAPTURED SLAVER

The Captain of the Echo in Prison at Boston—The Crew on Trial at Charleston.

The Boston Journal of Saturday says:

On Thursday the U. S. brig Dolphin arrived at this port, having on board the supposed Captain of the captured slaver Echo He was transferred to the Boston Jail, and this morning was brought before U. S Commissioner C. W. LORING for examination.

J. N. MAFFIT, Lieutenant commanding the Dolphin, was the only witness examined. He deposed as follows:

Am commander of the Dolphin, attached to the Home Squadron; have seen the defendant before; I saw him about ten minutes after the capture of the slave brig Echo; he then came on board of the Dolphin, with all the white persons attached to the Echo, except two; I sailed from Sagua la Grande about 5 o'clock on the morning of August 21; about 6½ o'clock on the morning a strange sail was seen ahead, about four or five miles off; she carried a press of sail; had no particular suspicion in regard to her until she took in all studding sails and hauled on the wind on the starboard tack; she was heading before about north-west by west; saw that she was light and showed no colors; I then laid the Dolphin on the wind, and, as is usual in such cases, hoisted English colors; after chasing about thirty minutes, fired a blank cartridge to windward, as a signal for her to show her colors; an hour elapsed without any notice being taken of signal; fired another blank cartridge, and by the glass saw that her deck was crowded with men; was then convinced that she was a slaver; I then yawed off and fired a shot under her stern; she hoisted American colors and we did the same; about 5½ o'clock P. M. I directed the First Lieutenant to sight the bow gun himself; he did so, and threw a shot close across her bow, taking care not to strike the vessel; at the last shot she rounded to, her maintopsail to the mast, and hauled down her colors; she was then about three hundred and fifty yards from the Dolphin, very near point blank range; I sent Lieut. Bradford and Sailing-Master Crossman on board with an armed boat's crew, with orders to take possession of the vessel, and send her crew on board the Dolphin as prisoners; among them was Capt. Townsend; I went on board and found some three hundred and eighteen negroes, all Africans; no papers or national flag could be found; it was evident that the American flag had been thrown overboard; in my judgment, she had been out about thirty-five days; I thought the brig about two hundred tons; she was fitted for the Slave trade, and had a double deck; she had a large number of water-casks, and a large quantity of rice and beans on board, also revolvers for all her crew; a large portion of the negroes were on deck, at perfect liberty; the negroes were all young, none above thirty-two years old among them; the majority were boys; the crew numbered eighteen—the majority Spanish and Portuguese, but some were Americans; one by the name of Bates had an American protection; I took it from him and have it now; the negroes did not speak English; on the morning of the 22d I had written my dispatches and made all arrangements; I sent a prize-crew on board, Lieut. Bradford in command; sent all the prisoners back to the Echo, except Capt. Townsend and two who were sick; ordered Lieut. Bradford to proceed at once to Charleston and report to the Federal authorities; I proceeded to Key West to await further instructions from the Navy Department; I found orders to proceed to Boston without delay; the orders were a month old then; I advised the Marshal at Key West to take possession of the prisoners on board the Dolphin; there were two very sick with African fever; either to detain the slaver or to send them to Charleston; he declined to take them, and, on the report of the physician, I discharged them, fearing the fever might spread to the crew; from Key West I proceeded to New-York, expecting to recover my prize-crew, and to deliver Capt. Townsend to the Marshal; I found a renewal of my orders to proceed at once to Boston, which I did without delay, and arrived here at 10 o'clock P. M. on Thursday;

On the stern of the Echo was "Putnam, of New-Orleans;" this had been painted over, and simply Echo painted over it; I could see the underneath name four or five feet off. and don't think it could have been seen more than eight feet; we stayed at Key West about four hours, and while there Captain Townsend was in irons.

A very brief cross-examination followed by the defendant's counsel, but no new fact was elicited.

Captain TOWNSEND is an extremely good-looking man, very gentlemanly in his appearance and address, about thirty five years of age, with dark brown hair, heavy whiskers, of a lighter color than his hair, and dressed in the extreme of nautical fashion He gives no indication of where he belongs, and even his Christian name is unknown.

At the conclusion of the testimony the prisoner was remanded to jail until the 21st inst., when a further examination will be held.

MILTON ANDROS, Assistant District-Attorney for the United States; CHAS. R. TRAIN and J. H. PRINCE for defendant.

The Boston Journal, in an editorial comment upon this case, remarks:

It has been argued that the Captain of the Echo could not be tried here, but that he should have been transferred to the United States authorities at the first port at which the Dolphin touched (Key West.) But if from any cause he could not be landed there, it does not follow that no other United States Court has jurisdiction in the premises, and that the Captain must be returned to Key West for trial. The question of jurisdiction is undoubtedly an important one to the prisoner, for here the offence with which he is charged is viewed as a crime of the blackest dye. He would have but little sympathy during his confinement, and would in fact be shunned as a pirate. When brought to trial, strict justice would be meted out to him. In Charleston or Key West, on the other hand, he would be looked upon as a gentleman who had been a little unfortunate in his business arrangements, but who is entitled to admission into the most respectable society of the place, and to be lionized by the admirers of "likely boys" and smart field hands. His trial would be a mere farce, and he would escape punishment.

The Charleston Mercury of Thursday, says:

The prisoners lately lodged in Charleston jail, charged with the violation of the laws of the United States, restrictive of the foreign Slave trade, were brought into the District Court of the United States yesterday, under a writ of habeas corpus, which as may have been seen from our paper of yesterday, was granted by his Honor Judge MCGRATH on Monday. For the prisoners appeared Messrs. HENRY BUIST, L. W. SPRATT, J. B CAMPBELL and R. DETREVILLE. For the United States, JAMES CONNER, Esq., District Attorney.

Mr. CONNER proposed to read the return of the Marshal to the writ of habeas corpus The counsel for the prisoner interposed, and stated to his Honor that before he would be prepared to consider the sufficiency of the return to the writ of habeas corpus, they would be compelled to see the proceedings, if any, which were had in the United States Commissioner's office before the prisoners were sent to jail, and in order to a motion for a writ of certiorari of such proceedings to this Court, they would read the petition.

This petition declares that the parties under arrest have never been confronted with their accusers, and that no complain against them has been made in their presence, and calls for the record of the proceeding had before the United States Commissioner. It is signed by counsel on behalf of the following-named parties.

R. T. Bates, Alexander Rogers, Archibald Scott, William Henrys, Domeneco Delleohene, George P. Akens, John E. Copell, Antonio Almado, Jose de Costo, Antonio Gomas, John Barber, Thomas John Pasco, Vital de Miranda, Jose Gonsalves Lima, Antonio Milanowitch.

The District Attorney opposed the order for a writ of certiorari. He said that it was not in course, and that all the facts material to the prisoners would appear upon the return to the writ of habeas corpus. The counsel for the prisoners contended that they would not so appear; that it would be incumbent upon the Marshal, to whom the writ of habeas corpus was addressed, to return merely the detainer or commitment lodged with him by the Commissioner; that this might be regular and on the face of it sufficient; but that there might be irregularities and insufficiencies of evidence and proceeding in the office of the Commissioner; that it is charged in the petition for the certiorari that such was indeed the fact; that under these circumstances the Court ought not to be estopped by the Commissioner's warrant to the Marshal; that it was the privilege and office of the Court to do what of right and justice appertains to the prisoners; and of his own motion, even without the application for a certiorari it should order the proceedings and testimony to be certified. At the close of his argument, his Honor Judge MAGRATH intimated his intention to deliver his opinion on the question raised on the following day. The Court then requested the counsel to proceed in the habeas corpus case. Mr. CONNER read the return.

Mr. SPRATT said that upon the return appeared the very difficulty which was anticipated. The Marshal returns a commitment, while the prisoners declare in their petition that there was no examination and no commitment; and as, until the facts can be certified to the Court, the counsel for the prisoners cannot raise the question as to the sufficiency of their detainer, with the concurrence of his associate counsel, he would ask that further proceedings in the cause be suspended until the Court shall have determined upon the question of the certiorari.

The Court yielded to the wish of the counsel and adjourned the cause.

No Union—The Ways and Wherefores.

From the New York Tribune.

The failure to form a common opposition ticket at Syracuse is not easily comprehended by the great mass of the voters. They cannot perceive any adequate reason for their disappointment and the hazard it involves. That it was an affair not of principles but of men, they clearly see; but what men were at the bottom of the difficulty, doth not so plainly appear. And the American leaders—who have in their ranks quite as many and as hearty adversaries of "fusion" as the Republicans, and would have furnished quite as many votes against it had one been effected—are busily exciting their followers by throwing the whole blame of the failure on the Republicans, and representing it as the result of deliberate bad faith on the part of the latter. This is unjust, and renders necessary an exposé of the secret influences which controlled the progress and termination of the Syracuse diplomacy.

The Americans were generally ready to fuse on one condition—this, namely, that Mr. THURLOW WEED should take a back seat in the new car. We do not mean that this was specifically demanded, but it was always implied; and it was this, and nothing else, that broke up the arrangement. They had no objection to Mr. MORGAN per se—they objected to him only as Mr. WEED's friend and choice. They knew Mr. M had been an early and was still an earnest advocate of "fusion"—they did not doubt that he would regard them kindly and treat them fairly—their sole objection to him was his personal relation to Mr. WEED. This they could not or would not abide.

On the other hand, Mr. WEED had been subjected, throughout the past Summer, to a series of unwisely irritating rather than damaging personal attacks, on the part not only of American but of Republican journals—attacks calculated to arouse and animate his hosts of attached and influential friends. These attacks made him a Delegate to the Republican Convention, with a majority surrounding him with whom devotion to his interests and wishes was the paramount consideration. When it was ascertained that one Convention made—not specifically, but no less really—his ostracism an indispensable basis of union, while the other indignantly repelled the bare idea of it, the star of "fusion" suffered a total eclipse. What followed was essentially inevitable.

Under other circumstances, Mr. WEED's magnanimity might have been appealed to. He might have been urged to make concessions and accord the Governorship to some one who would be equally acceptable to both sides. In view of the fight which had been made against him, this was hardly to be expected. The hunter who would persuade the lion to give half his skin by way of compromise and pacification, must make the suggestion before he has missed his shot and broken his gun; even the prophet Jonah, though on the brink of shipwreck, and doubtless so seasick that the choice between living and dying would not have been worth much to him, did not venture to walk the plank, but had to be thrown overboard. (On referring to the Book, we find that Jonah suggested this salutary and soothing medicament, so that his case would seem to make against our position; but if so it is one of a thousand, for we confidently assume that the natural human instinct runs strongly the other way.) We recollect, indeed, that Mrs. Dill in the old song was accustomed to summon her acquatic brood to furnish forth the daily sacrifice by the rather frank than alluring invitation, but we never could imagine that their alacrity of approach was really quickened by the tenor of this adjuration, however seductive the tones in which it was uttered. On the whole, then, we judge that, if Mr. WEED's enemies, who controlled the American Convention, were justified in demanding his virtual deposition as a vital condition precedent of "fusion," his friends, who predominated in the Republican body, had at least an equal right to resist that demand, and that at least half the blame of the failure rests on the former.

'Come here, you little ducklings, come here and be killed:'

We have endeavored to state the facts with judicial impartiality. We have no desire to heap blame or censure on either side. We seek rather to soothe irritation and remove the obstacles which have been suddenly interposed to the election of anti-Buchanan members of Congress from this end of the State. Let the whole case be fairly stated and generally understood, and these obstacles may yet be overcome.

Hon. Edward Everett will not deliver an oration at the Springfield Exhibition. He has merely accepted an invitation to be present at the public dinner.

Canadian is in demand, yet is depressed; sales 630 bbls., at $5 40@$6 50 for low to choice extra, ℔ bbl. Southern continues dull and unsettled; sales 1,200 bbls., at $4 35@$5 30 for rejected brands, $5 35@$5 60 for mixed and straight brands, and $5 65@$8 25 for low fancy to very choice extra brands, ℔ bbl. Rye Flour is inactive, at $3 30@$4 25 for fine to superfine, ℔ bbl. Corn Meal is in demand, at $4 10@$4 15 for Jersey, and $4 75 for Brandywine, ℔ bbl.

GRAIN—Wheat is moderately inquired for at however, languid prices. Sales 24,000 bushels, including fair new White Canada at $1 25; unsound Canada Club at a price not ascertained; White Western at $1 20; Red Western at $1 14; poor to very choice White Southern at $1 20@$1 50, the latter rate for a small lot wanted for seed; and inferior to good Red Southern at $1 10@$1 20 ℔ bushel. Corn has been in lively request at, however, easier prices, the tendency being in favor of buyers. Sales 75,000 bushels at 65c.@66c. for unsound mixed Western; 68c.@71½c. for ordinary to good sound do.; 72c. for damaged Yellow Southern; 81c.@83c. for White Southern; 92½c. for round yellow; and higher prices for small lots ℔ bushel. Rye is in demand and is steady. Sales 5,600 bushels at 74c. for heated, and 76c. for prime new North River ℔ bushel. Barley has been purchased to the extent of 5,800 bushels new State at 75c.@75½c. ℔ bushel. Oats are rather more sought after at uniform prices; Western, 47c.@50c.; State, 43c.@47c.; Jersey and Pennsylvania, 39c.@42c.; Southern, 32c.@40c. ℔ bushel. Included in the reported sales were 13,000 bushels Western at 47½c.@50c. ℔ bushel. We are indebted to Mr. EDWARD BILL, broker, for the annexed statement of the exports of the leading kinds of Breadstuffs, from the Atlantic ports of the United States, from Sept. 1, 1857, to Sept. 1, 1858, and annually, for eleven years preceding:

THE GREAT WONDER OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY, PROFESSOR WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis (Mo.) Democrat: "Below we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth the Doctor needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the Press."

BATH, Maine, Jan. 20, 1858.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co.:

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for 25 years. I am now 60 years old; my good wife at the age of 52, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last 15 years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

PROFESSOR WOOD—Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of yellow fever, in New-Orleans, in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to answer as the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned the Rev J. K. Bragg is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence, and universally beloved.

WM. DYER.

BROOKFIELD, Jan. 12, 1858.

PROFESSOR WOOD—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff, and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit. Yours truly,

J. K. BRAG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz., large, medium and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for $1 per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, and retails for $2 per bottle; the large holds a quart, forty per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

O. J. WOOD & CO., Proprietors,

No. 312 Broadway, New-York, (in the great New-York Wire Railing Establishment,) and No. 114 Market-st., St. Louis, Mo.

And sold by all good Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

A NEW BOOK BY SPURGEON.

SPURGEON'S GEMS,

CONSISTING OF BRILLIANT PASSAGES FROM THE PUBLISHED AND UNPUBLISHED SERMONS AND OTHER WRITINGS OF THE REV. C. H. SPURGEON.

1 vol. 12mo. Price $1.

More than ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND VOLUMES OF MR. SPURGEON'S BOOKS Have been sold by us in America, and the demand for them is unabated. The masses read and love them.

SPURGEON'S GEMS, Now just issued, is spoken of as follows, By the New-York Observer.

"SPURGEON'S GEMS.—The publishers of Spurgeon's Sermons—Sheldon, Blakeman & Co.—have in press a volume of 'Brilliant passages' from the discourses of this remarkable preacher. We have seen the sheets of this new book, AND EVERY LINE IS A FLAME OF GLOWING FIRE. The extracts are brief and characteristic, earnest, bold and strong, full of striking thought, brilliant imagery, and warm appeal. We think it will be far more attractive than the volumes of his sermons, and they have had an extraordinary circulation in this country."

SPURGEON'S GEMS may be found at all the bookstores.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR.

The popularity of Mr. Spurgeon's sermons in this country has been equaled only by the popularity of the preacher himself in his own land and the publishers believe that THIS VOLUME OF GEMS will be received with greater favor even than his volumes of sermons.

SPURGEON'S GEMS is published in answer to a call that has been repeatedly made for a volume giving the characteristics of style, revealing the secret of his mighty power as a preacher of truth with the peculiarities of manner which arrest the attention rouse the sympathies, excite the admiration, and impress the feelings of his vast audiences.

Buy a copy of SPURGEON'S GEMS.

It will cost you but ONE DOLLAR.

Mr. Spurgeon is rhetorical, descriptive, flowing and glowing. He blazes and burns along the pathway of his subject, rising in flights of imagination and carrying his hearers along with him in earnest, overwhelming appeals. He is pungent in his applications, strong in his doctrinal opinions, and powerful in his exhibition of the divine Word.

The volume is ready for the Trade, and their orders solicited.

Persons wishing it, and not being able to obtain it of their bookseller, can order it by mail.

It will be forwarded promptly postage prepaid, for ONE DOLLAR.

SHELDON, BLAKEMAN & CO., Publishers, New-York.

NOW READY:

FROM NEW-YORK TO DELHI,

BY WAY OF RIO DE JANEIRO, AUSTRALIA AND CHINA,

BY ROBERT B. MINTURN, JR., OF NEW-YORK.

This work has grown out of a six months' tour in India, just before the outbreak of the recent mutiny. The materials were principally derived from letters intended only for the perusal of the author's family. He has been induced to give his observations a more permanent form and a wider circulation, both on account of the interest which has been excited in the subject by the events of the last year, and because, considering the size and population of the Indian Peninsula, its immense capabilities of production and the important position that it may hereafter hold in the economy and commerce of the world, it certainly has not hitherto attracted in this country its due share of attention.

1 vol., 12mo, Cloth. Price $1 25.

DANCING.

A. DODWORTH'S DANCING ACADEMIES,

No. 806 Broadway, New York.

No. 137 Montague place, Brooklyn.

Will commence in New York on SATURDAY, Sept. 25; in Brooklyn, FRIDAY Sept. 24.

Mr. DODWORTH would take occasion to say that he has long felt the necessity of introducing a system of instruction for the use of the younger pupils by which the exercise of dancing would be of more benefit physically, and more useful in the development of graceful movement than it has been of late years. The facility with which the Polka and similar dances of the present time are acquired, has induced many to neglect those exercises that were formerly indispensable. To that neglect as one of the causes may be attributed the appearance of so many round-shouldered young misses of the present generation. They are sent to school and allowed to stoop over their desks without intermediate exercise, until the growing frame assumes the position in which it has been so long restrained; they are then sent to a teacher of dancing, with the expectation that by learning the Polka, Schottische and a few other dances, all this will be remedied and that they will at once become graceful women. Surely these things should be better understood. Were children sent to dancing early in life, at intervals during their necessary studies, and the teacher allowed to exercise them in such a manner, and in such dances (in addition to the fashionable ones) as would add grace to the figure, walk, and every movement, something would then be gained consistent with the true object of this valuable accomplishment. Anxious to restore the art to its former usefulness, Mr. Dodworth instructed his classes in that acknowledged graceful study, the "Minuet de la Coeur," and other dances of similar usefulness. The evident success of this course in its effect upon the pupils encouraged him to give more attention to Dancing as connected with Calisthenics; and, during his late tour through Germany, France and Great Britain, he made it his business to call upon the most prominent teachers, and consult with them in regard to the best methods of accomplishing those desirable results. He hopes, therefore, to have gained such information as will, in addition to his own experience, enable him to present to his pupils a system that will not only make them dance the Polka, but will improve their health, figure and walk, and, consequently have a salutary effect upon every movement in life.

During his European tour of this season, Mr. Dodworth has had favorable opportunities of studying the peculiar dances of Poland and Hungary so popular at the present time in Vienna. Some of these, with other novelties, will be introduced at the earliest moment of the present season.

Circulars may be had at either Academy.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The R. M. steamship Persia, from Liverpool on the 4th inst., with three days' later news from Europe, is now fully due at this port. There were no signs of her at Sandy Hook at 12 o'clock last night.

The brig T. M. Mayhew, which arrived here yesterday, brought Bermuda dates to the 7th instant, being eight days later than former advices. The steamer Delta arrived at Bermuda, Aug 31, from Halifax, with the first news dispatch transmitted over the Atlantic Telegraph, being the advices from China. The news was five days in reaching Bermuda from England. It created a great sensation. The Bermuda papers are filled chiefly with matter relating to the proceedings in this country on the successful laying of the Cable.

We have news from Rio Janeiro to Aug. 1. Señor Paranhas had succeeded in his mission to Paraguay, and negotiated a treaty by which the rivers had been opened to the vessels of all nations. An insurrection of slaves on a small scale had taken place, but was suppressed by the military.

Advices from Port au Platte to the 2d instant, apprize us that Gen. Santana has displaced the government of Valverde, and assumed the administration. It is a contest of local rather than of public interest,—an evolution of the old jealousy between the towns of Santiago and Sante Domingo. An enlarged prosperity for the Island is anticipated from the new régime.

From Saint Thomas we hear of the arrival of H. B. M sloop-of-war Buzzard, Capt. Peel, in search of the British Resident at Caraccas. That official, however, having heard of the success of the Anglo-French bravado at Laguayra, had already departed for his post.

Our file of the Bermudian, to the 1st inst., is at hand. It contains no local news of importance.

The Democratic State Convention for the nomination of candidates for State officers assembles at Syracuse to-day. Last night quite a number of delegates and outsiders had collected, and everything bids fair for a very excited and interesting time. It is expected that the settlement of the disputes relative to contested seats will throw the regular organization over until to-morrow. It will be seen by reference to our dispatch—which also furnishes considerable gossip in regard to the prospects of the various candidates spoken of—that the principal interest centres in the contest between the Hards and the Softs in this City,—a determination being expressed to have the matter finally disposed of at this Convention.

We have a rumor from Washington that General Denver has resigned the Governorship of Kansas, to take effect in a few weeks. It is expected that he will again resume his position of Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

The Massachusetts State Temperance Convention was held at Boston yesterday, and was quite fully attended. A proposition to nominate an independent State Temperance ticket for State officers at the ensuing election was voted down. A series of resolutions was adopted, recommending moral suasion, but insisting upon the impartial enforcement of the Liquor law.

The third National Horse Exhibition at Springfield, Mass., opened yesterday, with the most gratifying prospect of success. A large number of horses, embracing many of the most celebrated in the country, are on exhibition, the whole numbering about five hundred. A public reception took place last evening at the City Hall, at which spirited speeches were made by various individuals of note. The exhibition opens this morning with a trial of speed between stallions of eight years old and upwards, and among the competitors are several celebrated racers

Sufficient returns of the Maine State election have been received to insure the reëlection of Lot M. Morrill, for Governor, by a majority of about 9,000. The Republicans have also elected the six Members of Congress.

At Quarantine affairs passed off quietly yesterday, the cool weather detracting somewhat from the enthusiasm which has been manifested by the Police in the routine of their duty. Strict guard is kept without and within the inclosure. One case of black vomit was admitted to the Hospital from the village, in the person of a woman named Mary Myers. Her case was hopeless. The Board of Health held a meeting in the morning, and reinstated Doctor Mundy as their Health Officer. Attorney-General Tremain visited the Island, and took several affidavits, for the purpose of commencing a suit against the county for the destruction of the Hospital buildings.

The Republican Central Committee met last evening and made arrangements for the election from each Ward of delegates to the various Congressional County and Assembly Nominating Conventions, and took action in reference to alleged frauds at the late primary elections in the Sixth Ward. The proceedings were long-continued, exciting and interesting.

Very little was done in the Court of General Sessions yesterday. Only one case was tried, that of Hezekiah Allen, a negro, for highway robbery, but who was convicted only of petit larceny. Judge Russell sentenced him to six months in the Penitentiary. Ann Kemp pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods, and was remanded. Other offenders pleaded guilty to sundry crimes and misdemeanors, but Judge Russell discharged them, giving them an opportunity to reform their characters or repent their crimes.

The American Pomological Society is holding its seventh annual Convention at Mozart Hall, in this City It was organized yesterday morning. Officers for the ensuing year were elected, and interesting papers on fruit-culture were read. The exhibition of fruit is an unusually fine one.

Yesterday being the eleventh anniversary of the surrender of the City of Mexico to the American Army, the Scott Life Guard had a parade and a banquet, with other ceremonies.

The General Markets, yesterday, ruled very firm for Cotton, of which 1,800 bales were reported sold. Flour, Wheat, and Corn continued depressed, with a downward tendency in prices. Provisions were in fair demand, as likewise were Sugars, Coffee, Rice, and the leading kinds of Naval Stores. Shipowners were firmer in their claims on freight, but the engagements were light.

The Syracuse Difficulty—Opinions of the New-York Tribune.

In an article, which we copy this morning, the New-York Tribune professes to expose "the secret influences which controlled the progress and termination of the Spracuse diplomacy." It imputes the result to the hostility of the Americans to Mr. Weed. They insisted, so the Tribune asserts, that he "should take a back seat in the new car." That paper, indeed, admits that no such condition to union was "specifically demanded," but it forgets to tell its readers what Republican leader it was who, months ago, did "specifically" and expressly assign "back seats" to the Americans.

That there existed among the Americans a decided objection to the leadership of Mr. Weed is unquestionably true, and so far the Tribune's statement is well founded. Nor was that feeling confined to them. With a portion of the Republicans it was equally prominent, and still more freely avowed. The Americans, however, objected to Mr. Weed, not so much from personal feeling as because his well-known opinions were adverse to their views of public policy. It was, therefore, from a regard to the welfare of their party that they refused his leadership. That the opposition to Mr. W. in both parties had the effect to rally his friends around him is doubtless true. And we are not prepared to question the Tribune's assertion, that with a majority of the Republican delegates "devotion to his (Mr. Weed's) interests and wishes was the paramount consideration." In other words, the success of the ticket was a subordinate object. Need there be any surprise if the mass of the party should imitate the example of their representatives at Syracuse? We are not aware that in any former canvass a mere personal triumph was avowedly preferred to the chances of victory. Can a full vote be called out where the leading object is openly to uphold a party leader, and not to elect the party ticket?

Quarantine—Divide and Conquer.

If we are to judge of the Quarantine question by the proceedings of the Commissioners of Emigration on Monday, it may be inferred that the permanent location of the Hospital and offices, on their old site, is assured. So far as this determination is founded on sentiments of vengeance, it is open to objection, but so far as it rests on the obvious impossibility of finding an available point beyond the Narrows; or of creating an island for the purpose in the Lower Bay, even at a cost of millions, it must meet with the approval of all men free from the endemic lunacy of the Islanders. The truth is, we have had veteran experience in trying to remove Quarantine. The State, in response to the memorials of Staten Island, has twice passed an act with the view of extending relief to those who complain of the establishment. The last Act, passed in 1856, made ample appropriations, and gave abundant power, for the removal, and yet time has passed on without anything having been accomplished, except the outlay of fifty or a hundred thousand dollars of the State's money, and probably the impossibility of finding a new and suitable site.

Under existing enactments, the Commissioners of Emigration, were bound, after the Hospitals were destroyed by fire, to make immediate provision for the care of such persons as should be sent from the shipping, arriving in port, sick with "contagious, infectious or pestilential diseases;" and, of course, in the very outset of discharging such a duty, the question must have arisen, "Shall we put up temporary structures for Quarantine use, or shall we erect permanent buildings?" The latter consideration, it seems, was resolved upon, and undoubtedly, within a very short period, the Quarantine grounds will be filled with residences, offices, and hospitals which will be of the most approved architecture, and which will reflect credit upon the port and State.

This important step decided upon, an inquiry of equal moment came up for discussion during Monday's expedition. Are there no additional facilities practicable, which shall render the location of the establishment on Staten Island harmless? It appears to be decided that there are. It was argued that the great dread of a Quarantine is the danger from the spread of yellow fever. This disease has never been known to spread from a hospital or from individuals. Whenever the disease has been imported, so as to infect the inhabitants, the source of the malady has been traceable to infected cargoes, vessels or refuse material from them. It is manifest that if infected vessels and their cargoes can be purified and ventilated at a point sufficiently remote from the inhabitants of the port, the institution can in nowise endanger anybody, and therefore cannot be condemned as a nuisance. It was stated that the want of such facilities for infected cargoes this season has been keenly appreciated by the health authorities. When at the commencement of the present quarantine season it was found that vessels from West India ports were arriving in an unhealthy condition, they were ordered to lie to in the Lower Bay, and the Commissioners of Health passed a resolution, directing them to discharge their cargoes on lighters there. This regulation was regarded as a sufficient protection of the public health, and was not complained of by the shipping interest of the port; but, in endeavoring to carry it out, one part of it, namely, that of discharging vessels in the Lower Bay, was found to be practically impossible, owing to the "ground swells," which rendered it unsafe for lighters to lie alongside of the vessels, to say nothing of the danger and difficulty of transferring the cargo to the lighters. When it came to the knowledge of the Health Commissioners that it was not feasible to take cargoes out in the Lower Bay, the Board directed that vessels coming-to there should remain for ventilation during a period varying from ten to fifteen days, when then they might proceed to the upper anchorage to discharge cargo. But for the "ground swells" of the Lower Bay, all vessels having sickness on board would have been compelled to discharge cargo there, which would have been carrying out a regulation of safety to the public health.

It is of but little consequence to the citizens of the port where the Marine Hospital is located, or where the quarantine authorities shall be stationed for the transaction of their official business; and hence it was argued, if facilities for discharging and storing infected cargoes in the Lower Bay should be added to those of the present or past quarantine establishment, the joint facilities would make a quarantine, perfect and safe in all its parts. It was asserted that the Marine Hospital has never been dangerous to the public health; no case of yellow fever has ever been known outside of Quarantine, and traceable to the hospitals or Quarantine grounds; and all that is needed to meet the emergencies of the port in every respect, is the immediate construction of wharves and storehouses somewhere below the Narrows and inside of Sandy Hook, near which all infected vessels shall be compelled to ride out their quarantine, and at which all infected cargoes shall be discharged. This arrangement, which the Commissioners of Health attempted to institute early this year, but were thwarted for the want of a Lower Bay pier, wharf and storehouse, would, it is believed, render it entirely unnecessary to remove the site of the Marine Hospital, and unnecessary to begin another unpromising warfare to gain possession of Sandy Hook or Coney Island; while the construction of such pier as a breakwater, and such wharf and storehouse, would essentially lessen the detention of vessels and cargoes at Quarantine, and materially diminish the expenses which are a part of the risks incident to the West India trade. These views strike us as entirely reasonable, and in approving them the Commissioners of Emigration will undoubtedly secure public approbation. There are $100,000 at their immediate disposal; and with energy the outside Quarantine may be ready for use before the recurrence of another yellow fever season.

Equitable Justice.

The old lawyers tell us that the Law is the Perfection of Reason; and one would think that they must have had very odd notions of Reason in the days of Littleton and Coke, not to say of Blackstone and Mansfield, if they held the Law of those days to be her most perfect expression. We grant that it should be so, but it is too often but a lame and abominable imitation, a most counterfeit presentment, that is passed off for the divine original. And so we welcome all endeavors which are reaching forward to make human law more conformable to its ideal archetype. Vice-Chancellor Sir John Stuart made a very sensible step towards this object in a decision he made the other day, that the Crown should pay costs as well as receive them, if it gave a subject trouble and expense by a mistaken claim of prerogative. We hope that this equitable view of the reciprocal rights and duties of governments and governed may be made to include many other cases of injustice which now deform the administration of what should be justice, and that in this country as well as in the country whence we derive our Common Law.

Sir John Harmer claimed certain mining rights on the Flintshire side of the Dee, under a grant from Charles I The Attorney-General filed an information to assert the rights of the Crown to those mines which lay between high and low water-mark, and the question was whether the charter of Charles I. was sufficient to cover this amphibious territory. The Vice-Chancellor decreed that the debateable land was included in the terms of the grant, and dismissed the information. The question then came up whether the Attorney-General, or rather the Queen whom he represented, should be subjected to the indignity of paying costs, like any defendant of meaner degree who had been sent empty out of Court. And Sir John Stuart decided, very sensibly and justly, as it seems to us, that equity demanded that there should be no distinction of persons in a Court of Equity. Had the Attorney-General prevailed, he would have had his costs against the defendant, and there seemed no reason why the latter should be refused his when he had been put to the expense of a groundless information intended to take his property from him. As the Attorney-General would not have pocketed the costs if he had succeeded, so it was not to be supposed that he would have to pay them himself if they were decreed against him. The Exchequer into which the costs would have gone, had the Crown prevailed, would undoubtedly make good those that accrued from the failure of the suit. At any rate, the defendant was entitled to his costs for having been subjected to the annoyance of a groundless suit, and they were accordingly given to him against the Attorney-General.

This equalization of justice between the sovereign and the subject, or citizen, is an operation that must go forward in this country as well as in England, till the old barbarous offerings which used to be made to the divinity which doth hedge a king are abolished, as relics of an obsolete idol-worship. In this country we have abrogated the corruption of blood and the escheat of estates for treason and felony. In England, though the law is not often, if ever, enforced, it is still the law, and liable to be drawn from its sheath for the punishment of innocent heirs. When John Tawell, the Quaker murderer, as he was called, though not a Quaker, was hanged about a dozen years ago—which ceremony he insisted upon undergoing in the Quaker's dress, which he had chosen to assume for his own conveniencies, in spite of the remonstrances of some of the Society of Friends to the Sheriff against this indignity to their uniform—when John Tawell was hanged, we say, as he left a considerable personal property—about £10,000, we think—it was necessary to go through with the form of taking possession of it on behalf of the Queen, though it was immediately passed over to his widow and children. A hundred, or fifty years before, it would have been pocketed with as little scruple as any of the ordinary revenues of the Crown. These things are symptoms of a change for the better, and an actual advance in substantial civilization, of which exact justice is one of the chiefest elements. But there remain abundance of remnants of barbarous customs still inherent in our own administration of justice, as well as in that of England, or even more marked and more inveterate, which demand excision and the cautery, to some of which we have from time to time adverted, and to the consideration of which we shall return again.

Christianity and Crinoline.

Our readers will be glad to learn that the Church has at last begun to take into earnest consideration the excesses of its female members in the enlargement of their phylacteries to a degree never dreamed of by Scribe or Pharisee of old. The movement has not, indeed, begun in any of the high places of any of the great sects; but what reformation ever did spring from the spiritual or social eminences of society? We have not even learnt the name of the Luther that has set it on foot, but should the revolution proceed to a triumphant issue he cannot escape the gratitude nor the fame he will deserve. It is the Quarterly Conference of the Miami Annual Conference, held at Rumley Station,—we love to be particular, though we have a very confused notion of the whereabouts of these localities,—which has taken the initial of this vital reform. Taking into consideration the enormity to which this abuse hath grown, and that "it is believed the wearing of hoops by females is inconsistent with a truly Christian character," and is, indeed, "by some even considered indecent," the said Conference, at its last meeting, adopted the following resolution, to which they humbly ask their dear sisters to give a serious consideration:

> Resolved, That we, at a Quarterly Conference, disapprove of the wearing of hoops by members of our Church.

That the dear sisters will give this action of the Conference their consideration whenever it is brought to their notice, we think it may be well assumed; but we cannot with equal confidence affirm that it will be a serious one they will bestow upon it. We would not dampen the zeal of the Rumley brethren by throwing any cold water upon it; but we think they have undertaken a most difficult task, and one which will require their utmost efforts to accomplish. Sages, satirists and divines have set themselves to work in all ages to correct the superfluities and reduce the redundancies of female costume, and with very indifferent success up to this time. It is indeed recorded in the early history of the Puritan colony of Massachusetts Bay, that one Sunday morning the Rev Mr. John Cotton preached at Salem against the fashion of wearing veils with such effect that in the after part of the day there was not a veil to be seen in the whole congregation. But we fear that this was but as the morning cloud and early dew and soon vanished away, as the General Courts of the colony found it necessary to forbid by statute the wearing of "Gold and silver laces, girdles or hat-bands, embroidered caps, immoderate great veils, and immoderate great sleeves," which were all subject to forfeiture. But neither the thunders of the Church nor of the State were sufficient to control the instinct of the fairer half of the race for making themselves more destructive to the peace of mankind by the capricious graces of their costume, as many sound divines had occasion, even in those early times, to lament.

Still we think these inordinations of apparel, as Jeremy Taylor might have termed them, are suitable occasions for the restraining and correcting hand of ecclesiastical discipline. For, firstly, crinoline in its present immensity of circumference certainly interferes with the good walk and conversation of the fair sinners, as any unfortunate wight that has ever attempted to accompany one of them along Broadway can feelingly testify. And if it be thus mischievous in its tendencies upon the Broad-way, how fatal must be the obstacle it will present to their progression along the Narrow-way, if indeed it would not hinder entirely their entrance at the straight gate that gives entrance to it? Then, secondly, the space which a worshiper in crinoline occupies in the sanctuary acts as a very material curtailment of the sphere of Gospel influences; it having been ascertained by accurate calculation, based on actual measurement, that for every two women one man is extruded from the possible operation of the means of grace. Thirdly, and to conclude, the boundless contiguity of crinolines is of evil influence over the souls of mankind by the profane cursing and swearing—curses deep, if not loud—which it is apt to provoke on the part of impenitent sinners in omnibuses, concert rooms, theatres and other places where room for the expatiation of the downward determinations of the human form divine is annihilated by the circumclusion of these epicycloidal enormities.

As Burke said of another mischief, "Crinoline has increased, is increasing, and ought to be diminished." We commend it to the calm consideration of all Bishops, Presbyters, Ministers, of all Conventions, Conferences, Assemblies, of all Associations, Consociations, Presbyteries and Synods, as well as individual Churches, to see what effect ecclesiastical censures may have in retrenching these eccentricities—or rather concentricities—and bringing the extravagating and erring sisters of their communions within reasonable bounds and compass again. We fear that the lovely offenders will be too many for all the spiritual artillery of their pastors and masters, and that Fashion will set all rebuke and remonstrance at defiance, as she generally has done; but, at any rate, we and the Rumley Quarterly Conference will have nothing to reproach ourselves withal in the premises.

The Free-Lovers at Utica.—At the "Overcoming Convention" of Free-Lovers at Utica, Mrs Julia Branch was the leading spirit, as she was at Rutland. She made a speech on prostitution, and wound up with the following curious resolution:

> Resolved, That as the crime of infanticide has increased, and is increasing yearly, under the existing false forms of marriage, that all children born under any circumstances, within any State, shall be declared by that State legitimate.

The "Convention" adjourned sine die on Saturday.

Amusements.

Burton's Theatre—The New Opera Company.—There is such a wonderful amount of amiability in the selection of the opera nights at this house—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday—that we are justified in believing it is more in a spirit of good fellowship than of opposition that Mr. Strakosch has inaugurated his "season." Among musical managers there is a superstition that the only nights of the week worth anything at all are Monday, Wednesday and Friday; and so strong is this that, rather than not play on those nights, they are willing to encounter any sort of opposition. With rare magnanimity Mr. Strakosch has selected the "off nights," and as journalists we must thank him for thus allowing us to enjoy two opera companies and six performances in one week. The season, to be sure, is not a very long one, but for the reason that little is promised, we may anticipate that that little will surely come, and not be leavened with disappointment as more ambitious seasons have been.

Donizetti's nice little melodious opera, "La Figlia del Reggimento," was selected for the opening night, with the following cast: Marie, Mme. Colson; Tonio, Signor Labocetta; Sulpizio, Signor Babili. The interest of the performance centred on the new prima donna, concerning whose "youth, beauty and genius" every bar keeper has been managerially advised. Labocetta and Babili were moderately good—the latter being the least efficient of the two. The orchestra, under Herr Mollenhauer, rendered the accompaniments with decision, and in much quicker time than we have been accustomed to, if that is a merit. The chorus was strong, and would be better if it were not quite so strong in one or two uncertain female voices.

Mme. Colson enjoys a reputation of some value. In New-Orleans she has been a favorite for two or three years past, and the New-Orleans judgment is generally sound on musical matters. A favorable verdict there implies a French method and a French voice—both of which Mme. Colson possesses in a preëminent degree. In her singing there is much heartiness, complete self-possession, and an amount of aplomb which we rarely witness on the lyric stage. Her voice is a mezzo-soprano, strong and firm in the upper register, but less round in the lower. With a good and dashing presence, Madame Colson combines a method and voice well calculated to impress a mixed audience. Her execution, without being extraordinary, is reliable, and does not suggest the shadow of a doubt to the listener. In the matter of power, Madame Colson distances any recent rival. Against these prominent characteristics of a very excellent singer, we may mention the qualifying facts that the lady's voice is hard, and has that peculiarly keen edge which we always associate with French vocalism. Her style, too, is a little pronounced even for Marie, the "Child of the Regiment," and her acting, being always to the audience, tends naturally to make it still more remarkable. Without dwelling too minutely on the points of a first performance, we gladly record the fact that Madame Colson's début was a success, and sufficient to justify the expectation of a brilliant career. The dash and vigor of her style cannot fail to make her a favorite with Young America, and she has, we are informed, solid qualifications to commend her to the musically-informed. Madame Colson was recalled after each act, and received the usual floral tributes of her admirers.

The house was fashionably attended, but not uncomfortably full. Thursday is the next Opera night.

Academy of Music.—"Lucia di Lammermoor" will be played here to-night, with Madame Gassier, Signor Steffani and Signor Gassier in the principal parts.

Hoym's Theatre.—The second performance of Zavistowski's Juvenile Ballet and Pantomime Troupe took place last night, and attracted a delighted audience. A very judicious alteration has been made in the entrance to this pretty theatre, which will render it more agreeable for ladies and children. A still further improvement, we understand, is in contemplation, which will give a passage to the theatre entirely separate from the open garden. It must not be forgotten that Mlle. Christine, the versatile and graceful danseuse, appears in conjunction with the Ballet Troupe.

Palace Gardens.—An extra display of fireworks is announced at the Palace Gardens this evening, on occasion of the benefit of the Messrs. Edge—the Fire Kings. Mr. Baker's increased orchestra will assist on the occasion.

City Items.

Ferry Boat run into by a Schooner.—As the Fulton ferry boat Union left the Brooklyn side about 9½ o'clock A. M., yesterday, she was suddenly placed in a position towards several other boats and vessels from which there was no escaping a collision. The wind was fresh from the northward, the tide was setting strong flood, and the East River was literally full of sailing craft and ferry boats. Among the rest, there was a schooner coming down under full sail before the wind; on his right was the Wall-street ferry boat Exchange, going the same way, and before him at right angles was the Union; to avoid the latter by luffing would have brought him foul of the Exchange, sure; to put his helm up he would have jibed all standing, and struck the Union at the same time. The schooner, therefore, having no alternative, like a straight-forward Down-East captain, he kept his course and let the hardest fend off. The steam whistle screamed, and so did half a dozen men at the same time, "Why don't you keep her off!" "Luff there!" "Let go your peak halyards!" "Haul down your jib!" "Let go your anchor!" But on came the schooner with everything flying, straight for the broadside of the doomed ferry boat. "Take care there!" "Clear the cabins;" "All hands run aft." "Oh, Lordy marcy," shrieked a swooning old lady, "we shall all be killed!" Cr-r-ash came the headlong lime-drogher square into the Union's wheel-house; snap went the jib boom; jingle, jingle, went the glass. "Why the d—l didn't you haul down your peak?" bawled the pilot. "Why in h—l didn't you keep out o' my way?" whispered the skipper. By this time the schooner had swung round broadside to the ferry-boat, exposing a hole in the boat's top-work large enough to drive an ox team through, and peak, down-haul, gaff topsails, jib and flying-jib, on the schooner, all had the appearance of being struck by a sudden squall. After some effort the down-easter swung clear, and went on his way—rejoicing, no doubt, that the tarnal steam critter had got the worst of it. The fault of the collision plainly belonged to the Exchange, which was out of her position, and placed the schooner in a corner from which she could not escape.

The Fair at the Crystal Palace—The hum of preparation is in the Crystal Palace,—but that is all. Great heaps of pine plank, which in time will shape into tables and uphold choice specimens of the skill of handicraft, lie about the floor in "admired confusion." The saw and the hammer produce a series of sounds not pleasing to a gentle ear, and the fall of heavy masses of iron, as the cranes swing lazily back and forward, indicates that something is to be done some time. But for all that, the Fair of the American Institute will not open to-day. Exhibitors are backward, or modest, and the management cannot hurry, so that, between the two causes, the Fair virtually falls to the ground till next week. It will be Monday, and probably Tuesday, before the Institute people will be able to don their best suit, and stand hat in hand at the door of their Palace to welcome the throng of their friends, who never fail to pay attention to the Fall show.

Under disadvantageous circumstances the Institute has devised an attractive programme, running through the traditional space of three weeks. Among the novelties, are a lot of knitting machines, engines driven by the power of caloric, (not a humbug, after all, but a verity,) the ornamentation of porcelain by machinery, a steam engine in glass and in working order, and sundry others, which, as the oldfashioned advertisement has it, "must be seen to be appreciated." There is no doubt that the Fair will be good;—it would have been better if opened at the time announced;—but the delay is probably unavoidable, and visitors who wish to be critics must defer criticism till they can make their visit. Of course, the opening address will be delivered during the first evening by the venerable Mr. Meigs, who holds his old place, and without whom no Fair of the American Institute could be said to have been legitimately inaugurated. The annual orator has not been selected, but due announcement will be made touching that point. The Cattle Show is to be held in the Palace, but not until December, when Christmas is near and fat beeves are in demand.

A Smart Young Woman in Fashionable Boarding-Houses.—When a woman deliberately decides upon playing a rascally part, her rascality infinitely transcends male rascality, as is evinced by the following conclusive instance. Miss Adelaide Weaver was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing $100 worth of jewelry and dresses belonging to various boarders in the fashionable boarding-house of Mrs. Perine, No. 3 West Washington-place. When arrested Miss Weaver was at the boarding-house kept by Mrs. Willard, No. 22 Waverley-place, where most of the missing articles belonging to Mrs. Perine's boarders were found in her trunks. Several hundred dollars worth of other jewelry and splendid female wearing apparel were also discovered in the same trunks, said jewelry and wearing apparel being the undoubted property of boarders sojourning in other fashionable boarding-houses to which Miss Weaver in times heretofore has extended her kind patronage. The accused was taken before Justice Kelly for examination. The examination developed the fact that during the past year she has boarded in about a dozen fashionable boarding-houses in the vicinity of Waverley-place, and that in each case she has taken with her the unreceipted bills of her landladies, and the superfluous jewelry, laces, embroidered handkerchiefs and richest dresses of her associate boarders. The proof was so conclusive that the Magistrate ordered her full commitment for trial. Miss Weaver—her real age is thirty, but she would readily pass for twenty-five—has "played her part" most skillfully. Dressed fashionably, of prepossessing appearance and gracious manners, she had no difficulty in working her way into debt with her landladies. A charming, pert talker, a splendid player on the piano, a delightful singer, well read in the current fashionable literature of the day, and brimful of life, fun and wit, she with equal facility worked her way, first into the confidence of the gentlemen and lady boarders, and next and lastly into the plethoric porte-monnaies of the former and the wardrobes and jewelry of the latter. Her arrest has brought to a sudden termination her brilliant career.

Alleged Violent Assault upon a Woman, and Probable Death.—Conrad Rensen, a German, residing at No. 168 Ludlow-street, was arrested Monday evening, charged with violently assaulting Ann Kennedy, an Irish woman. Ann had been living in Mr. Rensen's family in the capacity of nurse, and a few days ago was discharged, and went to live in the house adjoining. Being a woman who drank to excess, Mr. Rensen finding that she was in the habit of visiting his house, forbade her coming there. Last evening upon entering the hall he met Ann coming out, and immediately took hold of her with a view to compel a speedier exit than she was making. Upon reaching the front stoop he gave her a violent blow, so she says, knocking her down the steps, and her head striking against the pavement. Police-Surgeon Mott was called and pronounced her injuries of a probable fatal character. Rensen was held to await the result of the injuries inflicted. He says that Ann was drunk when he met her, and that she fell from the steps to the pavement.

Frank Leslie Again.—The examination of Mr. Leslie, the proprietor of the Illustrated Newspaper, upon a charge preferred by Alderman Tuomey, which was intended to have been heard before Justice Osborne, yesterday, was postponed until Friday week, at 10 A. M Mr. Graham stated that the cause of delay did not rest with him. The Justice stated that the meeting was moved for by himself. Mr. Graham wished the prosecution to be discharged from all imputation of factious delay.

Foreman of the Novelty Works Missing.—Mr. Richard Williams, foreman of the Novelty Works, has been missing since the afternoon of the 13th inst. His friends are fearful that he has been foully dealt with. He resides in Fourth-avenue, where he has left a wife and child.

At 12 o'clock, last night, 42 persons were incarcerated in the Sixth Ward Precinct Police Station, all of them having been arrested during the day, and for various minor offences. This is unusual even for the "Bloody Sixth."

City Car Accident.—A little boy between two and three years of age, son of Mr. Wm. Rhoades, of No. 15 Rivington-street, was accidentally run over by a Second-avenue car, at the corner of Rivington and Chrystie street. His left ankle was dislocated, but no bones were broken. The driver did his utmost to prevent the accident.

Army Communications.—Communications for the Head-quarters of the Army, to arrive on and after the 20th inst., are directed to be addressed to this City.

Meeting of the Central Republican Committee—Interesting Proceedings.

A special and interesting meeting of the Republican Central Committee was held, last evening, at the Head-quarters No. 618 Broadway, John A. Kennedy, President, presiding.

After the usual formal business, a report from the Executive Committee was presented, submitting a plan for the election of delegates to the various nominating conventions in the approaching political campaign. This report was finally adopted, after some amendments, as follows:

> That the various Ward Associations shall meet on the evening of Wednesday, the 22d inst., between the hours of 6½ and 8 P. M., to elect Delegates to the following Conventions:
>
> A County Convention, to nominate candidates for Sheriff, County Clerk, four Coroners, a Justice of the Superior Court, and one Supervisor.
>
> An Assembly Convention in each Assembly District, to nominate candidates for a Member of Assembly.
>
> A Congressional Convention to nominate candidates for representatives in Congress.
>
> The County Convention to consist of five Delegates from each Ward.
>
> The Congressional Convention to consist of seven Delegates from each Ward.
>
> The Assembly Convention to consist of eleven Delegates from each Ward above Fourteenth-street, and one from each Election District in the Wards below Fourteenth-street—the same to be elected by the members of the Ward Associations.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

> Resolved, That we heartily approve of the Republican State nominations, and firmly believe that the people will ratify the same in November next, by placing those able, honest and worthy men in the chairs for which they are respectively nominated
>
> Resolved, That a Committee of five be appointed by the Chair, to prepare for a ratification meeting, to be held on Wednesday, the 27th of September, 1858, by the Republicans of the City and County of New York.
>
> Resolved, That the Young Men's Republican Committee be invited to appoint a similar Committee of their body, to coöperate with the above Committee

The Committee then took into consideration the alleged frauds at the recent primary election in the Sixth Ward, said to have been committed through the instigation of a man named Brennan, who was charged with having hired a large number of Five Point ruffians to overawe the regular members of the association.

The Committee to whom the matter was referred, reported that although they were convinced certain "irregularities" had taken place at the said election, yet they believed such irregularities were not sufficient to change the will of the majority of the Ward Association.

The report was adopted, after which a resolution was passed, censuring the admission of any but members of the Association at the regular Ward elections.

Sea and Ship News.

New Steamboat for the Tehuantepec Route.—A new iron steamboat, to be called the Suchil, was yesterday launched from the ship-yard foot of Houston street, East River, for the Louisania Tehuantepec Company. She has been constructed by Boardman, Holbrook & Co, of the Neptune Iron Works, in an incredibly short time, forty-two working days only having been employed in doing the work. She is 153 feet long, 34 feet breadth of beam, and 5½ feet depth of hold. She is provided with five iron keelsons running fore and aft, with eighteen cross keelsons of the same dimensions, besides being strongly ribbed and clamped. She has three iron bulkheads, making four water-tight compartments. Her propelling power will be two independent acting engines of 120 horse power each, high-pressure, and having two locomotive boilers, the whole upon the upper deck. She is provided with guards all round, which affords a very large space for passengers and baggage. Staterooms will be built upon deck after the manner of the steamboats upon our Western rivers.

The launch took place at 2 o'clock P. M. and was accomplished in fine style. She now draws only twelve inches water, and when her engines and coal are all on board her draft will not exceed two feet. Mr. Hargous, who has long interested himself in the opening of this route, was present with his family to witness the launch, as well as Major Harris, the President of the Company, and many other gentlemen.

After the boat had been brought to the pier of the Neptune Iron Works, the party assembled in a large machine loft and partook of a handsome collation. Complimentary toasts were offered to Messrs. Boardman, Holbrook & Co. for the superior manner in which they had accomplished the construction of this first iron vessel of any size which has been built in this City. The credit of having secured the contract for our own mechanics was accorded to Mr. Hargous, whose health was drank with all the honors. The engineer, the carpenter and his workmen came in for a share of praise for the rapid and excellent manner in which the work had been done. The Suchil will leave this port for Minatitlan on the 28th inst., in charge of Capt. S. H. Akerman. The steamer Quaker City has been purchased by the Company to run from New-Orleans to the mouth of the Coatzacoalcos. She is to be under the command of Lieut. Shufeldt.

The Slaver Case.—The crew of the steamer Echo alias Gen. Putnam, having been brought up on habeas corpus before Judge Magrath, of the U. S. District Court at Charleston, S. C., their discharge from custody was moved on the grounds: 1. That the proceedings of the Commissioner were irregular and insufficient to justify a commitment; 2. That the commitment is, in itself, improper and illegal. Judge Magrath denied the motion.

Mutiny on Ship Orient.—Yesterday afternoon, the crew of Harbor Police boat No. 5, James Alexander, Coxswain, arrested nine seamen on board of the above vessel, which arrived yesterday morning from Liverpool, charged, by Captain Hill, with mutiny at sea. The following are their names: Peter Fay, William Saxon, John Palmer, Burt Harrington, James Cogan, William Carnes, James Collins, William Epins, John T. McBride. The prisoners were brought ashore, hand-cuffed, and given in charge of Deputy United States Marshal O'Keefe.

No. 8, of the supplement of the New-York Marine Register, published by E. C. Root, Anthony & Co., is out, and a copy of it has been received.

A Dense Fog.—The ship Connecticut, arrived this morning from Shields experienced much foggy weather during the passage. On the 29th of August, when in lat. 45°, lon. 48°, spoke ship Iron or Island Queen. Could not see the vessel from the density of the fog, and heard the name imperfectly. From the sound of her bell judged she was bound East When off Nantucket (no date given) South Shoal bearing N. N. W., 30 miles distant saw steamer New York, bound to Southampton and Bremen. Same time saw a side-wheel steamer bound same course. Off Fire Island saw a steamer bound East.

Naval.

A detachment of United States marines arrived at the Brooklyn barracks yesterday (Tuesday), for the United States revenue cutter Harriet Lane, which vessel will be now turned over to the navy. She will haul out from the wharf early next week.

Why the President Sends the Negroes to Africa.—If the following excuse and deprecation from the Washington Union does not blunt the censure which the rice and cotton philanthropists are aiming at Buchanan, nothing could:

> "It is not for us to comment upon the policy of a law which consigns these captives again, after but a year's respite, to the miserable existence which they had escaped on their native shores; or to raise the question whether their own welfare would not have been far better consulted by retaining them here—either consigning them to a congenial and natural bondage on our Southern plantations, or turning them over to the officious philanthropy of New-England Abolitionism. Ita est scripta lex; and while it continues thus to be written, such a discussion would be only a vain speculation."

Judge Bowlin and the Mission to Paraguay.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Sir: I have been much pleased with your editorial of to-day, on "Paraguay," and am glad to see that the appointment of the Hon. James B. Bowlin as United States Minister, to accompany the expedition now fitting out, meets your approbation.

Judge Bowlin possesses other qualities than those named by you, that make him eminently the man for his work; such as sound judgment and a sagacity with which few men are gifted; the honor of his country is dear to him, and he would rejoice to make the name of an American respected abroad! Great injustice has been done to Judge Bowlin, by some of the New-York Press, for the position he assumed on the Panama question while Minister at Bogota; but time has proved that he was right, and had the Pierce Administration sustained him in the course he then recommended our Government to pursue, we would not now have a "Cass-Herran Treaty" rejected, nor be subjected to the humiliation of seeing the honor of our country trampled in the dust.

The Republics of Central and South America will never do what is right and just without a display of force on our part. In this way England and France have ever treated these petty nations; but our Government has considerations for them they do not deserve; and what is the consequence? The citizens of England and France are respected and protected, while an American is despised and his interests uncared for! It is, however, refreshing to think that President Buchanan has made a move in the right direction by the appointment of Judge Bowlin to settle this question with Paraguay, and that our demands, which are only just, will be enforced at the cannon's mouth, if necessary.

The benefits to flow from this demonstration against Paraguay can only be calculated by those who are familiar with the bad faith and dishonesty of South American politicians. BOGOTA.

QUARANTINE AFFAIRS.

The Military under an Easterly Wind—Visit of Attorney-General Tremain to the Ruins—More Arrests—New Case of Yellow Fever—Meeting of the Castleton Board of Health—Dr. Mundy Reinstated, &c.

The cool east wind of yesterday took away much of the romance that has hitherto surrounded affairs at Staten Island. Thick overcoats were in demand among the Police, and the Military were self-complacent at the foresight which led them to adopt a thick uniform. The prospect of an easterly storm caused many an anxious glance towards the wooden structures, which are happily now nearly completed, and in which the meals are to be served.

The same strict discipline, however, pervades the Camp as heretofore, and barring the near prospect of cool weather, when it is feared the nights may be uncomfortable for guard duty, the soldiery are in excellent spirits.

The Sutler, Mr. Ratz, provides an abundant supply of wholesome, well-cooked food, with choice coffee and tea, all which are relished better on account of the bracing air which engenders sharpened appetites. Small detachments have temporary leave to visit the City, but no one is allowed to remain over night.

The presence of Attorney-General Tremain upon the Island was not particularly enjoyed yesterday, as his advent was regarded as proof that the State authorities are in earnest, and intend to institute legal proceedings against them for the destruction of the buildings. His object is to obtain the necessary affidavits on which to commence a suit.

Edward Hughes, farmer, Jacob B. Wood, banker, and Deacon in the Reformed Dutch Church, Tompkinsville, and Jacob Egbert, keeper of a feed store in the village of Tompkinsville, were arrested yesterday morning by Officer Bostwick, of the Mayor's squad, and brought before Justice Welsh, at the Police Court, City Hall, upon a charge of conspiracy, as set forth in several affidavits made by Dr. Thompson, Health Officer, Dr. Bissell, Physician, and Michael Williams the Port Warden. The affidavits set forth that the persons arrested were seen on the Quarantine grounds on the nights of the 1st and 2d instant.

Justice Welsh held the prisoners to bail in the sum of $1,000, under protest, to appear at the Grand Jury. Charles H. Baker, No. 29 Beekman-street, became bondsman for Jacob B. Wood; Abram E. Egbert, of Tompkinsville, for Jacob Egbert, and Thomas B. Smithson, of Richmond County, for Edward Hughes.

A new case of yellow fever was admitted yesterday from the village of Tompkinsville in the person of a woman named Mary Myers, who was brought in sick with black vomit. It was thought she would die last night. There were also three cases of typhus fever from a Bremen ship. The Castleton Board of Health having passed resolutions prohibiting the interment of any more dead outside of the walls, it is apprehended that some difficulty will arise when the next case occurs. The Hospital physicians were enjoined in 1847 against burying any more dead within the Quarantine limits, since which time no burial has taken place inside the inclosure. Should the Board of Health adhere to their purpose to oppose the burial of the dead outside, in the usual place, it will be likely to bring their conflicting jurisdiction to a test.

CASTLETON BOARD OF HEALTH.

A meeting of the Castleton Board of Health took place yesterday morning at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Watson offered a resolution that the Board reconsider the vote passed at the previous meeting, removing Dr. Mundy as Health Officer of the town, and that he be heard in his own defence upon the charges preferred against him. This course, he thought, was but justice to the Board, and it was also due to Dr. Mundy to be heard.

Dr. Richardson said he had been notified of his appointment to the post of Health Officer, but the pressure of his other engagements rendered it doubtful if he could serve. Though, if it were found indispensable, he would consent to do so for a short time.

Dr. Mundy then came in and made a lengthened reply to the charges which had been preferred against him, contriving to shift the responsibility of much of the non-fulfilment of sanitary measures to Mr. Jones. Jones acknowledged the truth of the Doctor's statements, and the result was the passage of a resolution reinstating Dr. Mundy.

A complaint was made, in writing, by H. C. Halsted, that infected materials had been buried in the yard of a house in which Halliday died of yellow fever, and blowing up the officials who had been guilty of the offence.

Resolutions were passed, requiring regular reports of all important matters to be made to the Board of Health, and they then went into secret session.

In the Lower Quarantine there are but 20 sail of vessels from infected ports. There are but few arrivals from the West Indies, and but few are expected, at least for some time. The probation of most of those arrived within the past month having expired, necessarily reduces the number at this station. There were no new cases yesterday.

The chief officer of the brig Lillie Mills, recently arrived from Trinidad de Cuba, was attacked with palsy, about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, while sitting on deck, and became speechless and entirely helpless. His name is Tamlin, and he has a wife and family residing in Baltimore. He was brought to the Upper Quarantine in the steamtug Cinderella.

Commissioners of Health.

The Commissioners of Health met at the City Hall yesterday at noon. Present—His Honor the Mayor, Alderman Clancy, President of the Board of Aldermen, Drs. Rockwell and Miller.

A communication was received from the cabin passengers at Quarantine on the steamer Daniel Webster from New Orleans and Havana, begging permission to leave the ship, and stating that they are all well. Also, from the bearer of dispatches on the same vessel from Mexico to Washington, desiring similar permission.

Dr. Rockwell said that while he had no objection to the gentleman named going South, he strongly objected to his coming to New-York. His wish was, that such vessels should not come within three miles of the City within ten days after arrival.

The Captain of the vessel attended, and declared that one case, the only case that had occurred on board, was that of a female removed yesterday, suffering, not from yellow fever, but from constipation of six days' duration. The steamer was at Havana only 4 hours, but had no communication with the shore. The vessel, in his opinion, was the cleanest and sweetest of steamers.

Dr. Rockwell advised to take bonds of the passengers and let them go immediately South, or, after ten days, to New-York. So ordered, the Board having no means of taking care of them during the next five days. Those who wished could take the cars at Jersey City.

In reference to the bark S. A. Nicholls, from St. Jago, with sugar and tobacco, permission was asked to proceed to Greenpoint to put in new masts. Allowed to go up to Hunter's Point ten days after the discharge of her cargo.

As to the brig Frederico, from St. Domingo, with hides, she was ordered to unload and load at Quarantine. The hides must be put on a lighter and then ventilated some time before they could be allowed to come up to the City.

The Memphis was allowed to proceed to the Navy-yard.

The Alice Painter applied for a stream permit. Refused.

The brig Truxillo, from Port au Prince, unloaded, asked for permission to come up to Brooklyn. Leave was given to proceed to Hunter's Point on the 24th.

The Captain of the steamer Columbia, from Charleston, was directed to take out his cargo below, and in a day or two a stream permit should be given him. The rice, and pork and flour might come up. The cotton on board could not be suffered to come up at present.

The Commissioners then adjourned.

Quarantine Grievances.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The City of New-York, by the pursuance of a liberal commercial policy, has hitherto not only maintained its prestige but has erected itself into one of the greatest and most wealthy cities in the world.

A rigid and, I think, an imprudent enforcement of the Quarantine regulations seems, however, now to have been adopted. This threatens most injuriously to affect the interests of the City.

In the harbor at present are lying upwards of one hundred vessels, and many of these have arrived with clean bills of health, and from ports notoriously in a healthy condition; but, because they sailed from places which the local authorities arbitrarily condemn or suspect, these ships are detained in Quarantine, to the great damage of the cargoes and of the owners.

There is, too, a prospective wrong against which I would warn those in authority. For instance: An English steamer, with a clean bill of health, arrived yesterday from Jamaica, which island is perfectly healthy. She is compelled to lie in the Quarantine ground for an indefinite period. She has no cargo to land, and her wants to enable her to proceed to England are restricted to a few tons of coals. A very short detention must entail serious loss on this vessel and deter her owners from pursuing their plan of establishing a regular line of steam vessels between Liverpool, Jamaica and New-York. Any detention on each voyage would certainly have this effect, because such a line must come under penal contracts for the regular performance of the work, and for the purpose of obtaining the contemplated subsidy from Jamaica. One of these contracts would be for the forwarding of the mails from the Cunard boats on their arrival at New-York. To land cargo by lighterage from the Quarantine ground would of course entail a charge heavier than the original freight, and thus an insurmountable obstacle to regularity would be raised. It would be easy to multiply instances illustrative of similar discouragements.

The Quarantine laws are more than sufficiently severe. Remissions of their stringency are now generally admitted to be necessary, and in many parts of the world are in the course of adoption. Let individuals beware how, in the exercise of delegated and undefined powers, they fall into errors of oppression and wrong, and adopt a policy which may expel trade, and damage the character of this intelligent and hitherto reputedly liberal community.

NEW-YORK, Monday Sept. 13, 1858. OBSERVER.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—SEPT. 14.

Before Judges Nelson and Hall.

THE ALBANY BRIDGE CASE.

Robert D. Silliman vs. The Hudson River Bridge Company.—The present proceeding is on a bill filed in the Northern District of New-York, for an injunction to restrain the defendants from erecting any permanent structure over the tide-water of the Hudson River, below the city of Troy, unless elevated above the ordinary height, at all stages of the water, of the masts and chimneys of the craft navigating that portion of the river. The Bridge Company was incorporated by special act in 1856, with a capital of $500,000—the object being to connect the New-York Central and the Hudson River Railroads.

The act provides that the bridge shall be constructed at an elevation of twenty feet above the common tide water, and with a draw of sufficient width to admit the passage of the largest vessels navigating the river. The said company not to suffer any bars or obstructions which might be formed by reason of the bridge, to remain in the river so as to hinder the full navigation thereof, under a penalty of $500 to the State, as well as damages sustained to the party aggrieved. In November, 1856, a motion for a preliminary injunction was heard by Judge Nelson, who, after some time, granted it. Whether a perpetual injunction shall be granted is the question now pending. The plaintiff claims that the act of incorporation conflicts with the Constitution of the United States, is, therefore, void, and he prays for a decree declaring its unconstitutionality; that the right of the plaintiff to sue is derived from his coasting license from Congress, he being part owner in the seven barges which are employed in trade on the Hudson; also, that the case comes under the clause in the Constitution empowering Congress to regulate commerce. He avers that his business, and that of others, whose livelihood is derived from the navigation of the Hudson, will be seriously injured by the erection of the contemplated bridge, which is to rest on massive stone piers, twenty feet in breadth; that the river is not at present broad enough to accommodate its commerce; and that the extent of navigation and nature of the river are such that no drawbridge other than a suspension bridge can be built, so as not to be a very serious injury to all persons whose business is dependent upon the navigation of the river.

The defendant declares that the Court have no jurisdiction; that the power is with the State until Congress interferes and declares the bridge a nuisance.

For the plaintiff, Wm. A. Beach, of Troy, and the Hon. Reverdy Johnson, of Baltimore. For defendant Nicholas Hill, and J. W. Reynolds, of Albany, and the Hon. Wm. H. Seward.

The Court was occupied during the day in hearing read portions of evidence taken on a former proceeding.

Before Judge Nelson.

Greneway vs. The Bark Griffin.—This action was brought to recover the value of some cases of furniture shipped on the bark Griffin from this port to Rio Janeiro. The goods were landed and put in the Custom house, but, never having been put on the manifest, they were seized by the Government for violation of the revenue laws. The Court below gave a decree for the libelant against the bark. Judge Nelson on appeal affirmed the decision, holding that the goods never having come in the possession of the consignees, the undertaking of the ship containing the bill of lading had never been performed.

RESIGNATION.—Mr. A. R. Lawrence, Jr., has resigned his position as Assistant Corporation Counsel.

The Philadelphia Hose Company and the New-York Firemen.

From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, Sept. 14.

The shabby treatment received by the Philadelphia Hose Company, from a portion of the Fire Department of New-York, during a recent stay in that City, with their steam engine, has already been frequently referred to. Last night, a Committee of four from the Board of Firemen and Engineers of the New-York Fire Department, arrived in this city, and they were introduced to the members of the Philadelphia Hose Company, a stated meeting of the Company being in session. The Committee made known their business, which was to present to the Philadelphia an invitation to visit New-York. The strangers were received by Mr. George Boldin, on behalf of the Philadelphia, and the New-York Committee having retired, a Committee of five was appointed by the Philadelphia, with instructions to make a reply declining to accept the invitation, but assuring the New-York Committee of the full appreciation by the Company, of the kindness and courtesy of the Board of Engineers and firemen, and the companies which they represent. The New-York Committee returned home this morning.

The invitation, &c., sent on by the New York Department is elegantly engrossed and richly framed. It runs in this wise:

INVITATION AND RESOLUTIONS.

The New-York Fire Department to the Philadelphia Hose Company, No. 1:

At a meeting of the Board of Engineers and Foremen of the New-York Fire Department, held at the Firemen's Hall on the evening of Thursday, Sept. 9, 1858, the following resolutions were adopted and invitation extended:

Whereas, The public press of New-York and Philadelphia have censured the New-York Fire Department for the act of discourtesy shown towards the Philadelphia Hose Company, No. 1, on their recent visit to this City, when returning home from a successful competition with the steam fire engines of Boston; and

Whereas, This Board do not consider that the Fire Department of the City of New-York should be held accountable for the acts of a few of its members:

Be it therefore resolved, That we disclaim any act of incivility toward our friends of Philadelphia, knowing them to be gentlemen whose hospitality towards New-York firemen, visiting their city, is proverbial, and the Company whose acts have done more to perpetuate a good volunteer system of extinguishing fires than any other in the Union.

Resolved, That we hereby regret that the Philadelphia Hose Company should have left our City with feelings other than of good will at the reception given them at the fire in the Bowery, they having come upon the ground at the invitation of his Honor the Mayor, and one of the Engineers of the City, and we can only account for the disrespect shown them from a combination of circumstances, producing a feeling against steam fire apparatus, and not from any intentional discourtesy towards the gentlemen composing the Committee in charge of the steam engine.

Resolved, That as acts discreditable to some of our firemen cannot be undone, it remains for our Fire Department to offer such amende honorable as will, in a measure, remove the stigma cast upon us, and we earnestly and in all sincerity request that the Philadelphia Hose Company will again visit our City and afford us an opportunity to retrieve our name as hospitable entertainers.

Resolved, That the officers of this Board be directed to transmit a copy of these resolutions to the President of the Philadelphia Hose Company.

HENRY H. HOWARD,
Chief Engineer N. Y. Fire Department.
JAMES F. WENMAN, Secretary Board of Engineers and Foremen.

☞ The Philosopher's Stone of Medical Science.—Physic and physicians may have cured ere now, but they have been unable to avoid enfeebling the patient. Under the old system the unfortunate sick man was first reduced to the last stage of weakness and debility, and then came the tedious and expensive process of rehabilitating his strength and constitution with jellies, wines, and such like costly means. But the great REGULATING PILL discovered by Dr. RADWAY & CO., the celebrated New York chemists entirely revolutionize this odious system. The REGULATING PILL is the most remarkable combination of healing and nutritive power. It thoroughly cleanses the system, purging it of all disease and unhealthy humor, and at the same time conveys into the blood a highly concentrated strengthening and invigorative essence by which the patient is sustained, even though unable to swallow as much as a spoonful of soup. The READY RELIEF and RENOVATING RESOLVENT were grand discoveries, but even they are eclipsed by RADWAY'S REGULATING PILL, Office No. 162 Fulton st., New-York.

Messrs. D. APPLETON & Co., New York:
GENTLEMEN: I take much pleasure in certifying that Mr. JOHN MULLALY was with us in the Newfoundland Telegraph Expedition in the year 1855 and that he was on board the Niagara during the Atlantic Telegraph Expedition of 1857-58; that he was present at the trial trip in June last, and the final expedition which terminated in the successful laying of the cable in Trinity Bay, Newfoundland on the 5th of August, 1858.
His indefatigable exertions during all this time in procuring every fact in connection with the enterprise is deserving of the highest praise.
I have the fullest confidence in his narrative with regard to every incident that took place on board the Niagara during the process of laying the cable, and I will continue to furnish him with every information in my power relating to the formation, progress and success of the Atlantic Telegraph Enterprise.
I remain, gentlemen, very truly your friend,
CYRUS W. FIELD.

Mr. MULLALY having accompanied us on the two Atlantic Telegraph Expeditions of 1857, 1858, alluded to above by Mr. Field had every opportunity of which he availed himself to the utmost, to procure the fullest details in regard to the Atlantic Telegraph Enterprise.
Indeed we were accustomed to regard him as the "Historian of the Expedition" and we congratulate ourselves that so authentic an account is about to be given to the American public.
W. E. EVERETT, Chief Engineer U. S. N.

U. S. STEAMER NIAGARA, Aug. 20, 1858.
GENTLEMEN: I have been informed that Mr. JOHN MULLALY is about to publish a narrative of the Atlantic Telegraph Expeditions of 1857 and 1858. It affords me pleasure to say he has accompanied us in the Niagara on both expeditions, and collected the fullest information; and I know of no one better qualified to give a correct and graphic history of our undertaking.
Respectfully, your obedient servant.
W. L. HUDSON, Commander.

THE SUREST WAY TO BE SUCCESSFUL IN BUSINESS IS TO ADVERTISE judiciously, thoroughly and extensively throughout the whole region from whence trade comes.
S. M. PETTENGILL & CO.,
No. 119 Nassau-st., have been the longest established, have the best facilities, most extensive connections, and have the confidence of the Press of the whole country, and can advertise in any and every paper in the Union or British Possessions on the best of terms, making a large saving to all who do business through them. Almost every Newspaper in the country is received at their office and filed for the benefit of advertisers.
ADVANTAGES TO ADVERTISERS.
☞ In S. M. PETTENGILL & Co.'s Advertising Agency, much time, trouble and expense are saved the advertiser:
First. By selecting papers of the largest circulation and the best adapted to the business of the Advertiser.
Second. The Agents will make out the price of the advertisement for any length of time, before sending it, so that the Advertiser will know the exact amount of his bill when due.
Third. The Agents will see that each advertisement is inserted in the manner stipulated, and sent promptly.
Fourth. They will send the Advertiser one copy of each paper containing the advertisement and full files can be seen at any time, at their offices, No. 10 State-st., Boston, and No. 119 Nassau-st., New-York.
Fifth. The prices of advertising will be the same as are charged to large customers at the offices of publication, and in many cases our special arrangements are such as will insure a large reduction from the usual rates.
Sixth. Practical information respecting the value of different mediums for advertising will be cheerfully communicated, and assistance rendered without charge.
Seventh. The bill is to be settled with the Agents, and their receipts are regarded as payments by the Publishers, and an account is kept with them only.
Eighth. The Agents give their personal attention to business.
ADVANTAGES TO PUBLISHERS.
PUBLISHERS find it for their interest to appoint S. M. PETTENGILL & CO. their Agents:
First—Because by so doing they have an increased amount of advertising.
Second—They have dealings with but one instead of a large number.
Third—They know them to be responsible men, who will secure them from the losses to which the press is subject from unknown advertisers.
Fourth—They file the papers, and satisfy advertisers that the advertising is done according to contract.
Fifth—Their offices are the head-quarters of Editors, Publishers and Printers, from all parts of the country.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS!
Don't fail to procure Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful female physicians in New-England, and has been used with never-failing success in millions of cases.
We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world in all cases of dysentery and diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause.
If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents it is worth its weight in gold.
Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.
PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.
None genuine unless the fac simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New-York, is on the outside wrapper. Office No. 13 Cedar-st.

LOAN OF $1,490,500—HANNIBAL AND ST. JOSEPH RAILROAD BONDS.—The Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad Company will, until Saturday, the 14th day of August next, at noon, receive at the office of the Fiscal Agency, in Boston, sealed proposals for the purchase of $1,490,500 of their Land Bonds, in sums of $500 or $1,000.

A statement of the condition of the Company is in preparation, by which it will be apparent that the sale of their bonds will, with the other available resources of the Company, afford sufficient means to open the road through early next Spring.

The bonds now offered from the balance of the issue of $5,000,000, secured by a first mortgage to Wm. H. Swift, Sidney Bartlett and Nathaniel Thayer, Trustees, upon the lands granted to the Company, and are payable in twenty-five years from April 1, 1856, with interest, semi-annually, at 7 per cent. per annum.

The taker of each Bond will receive a certificate, giving him the optional right to take, at any time within one year after the cars run through from Hannibal to St. Joseph an equal amount in the stock of the Company, subject to assessment as follows: $5 per share upon electing to take the stock and receiving the certificate of scrip, and not over $30 per share during any six months thereafter.

The said assessments will be receivable in any of the Land Bonds of the Company now offered, with proper adjustment of interest.

10 per cent. upon each subscription to the loan will be payable on the 17th day of August next, and will be retained as security, without issuing bonds therefor, until the whole of such subscription is paid up.
10 per cent. on the 17th of September.
20 per cent. on the 17th of October.
20 per cent. on the 17th of November.
20 per cent. on the 17th of December.
20 per cent. on the 17th of January.

For each installment, except the first, bonds will be issued, with proper adjustment of interest, when payments are made; or payments may be made earlier, by notifying the Treasurer of the Fiscal Agency thereof, at the time the first payment is made.

The proceeds of the sales of the 600,000 acres of land of the Company is appropriated, as fast as received, to the payment of the bonds, at par, by lot, and the bonds are receivable, as cash, in payment for the lands of the Company.

Upon the above conditions the Loan will be awarded to the highest responsible bidders, the Company reserving to themselves the right to consider the responsibility of the parties making the proposals, as well as the rate offered.

R. S. WATSON,
Treasurer of the Fiscal Agency,
No. 45 City Exchange, Boston, Mass.

BURLINGTON AND MISSOURI RIVER RAILROAD CO.'S LAND AND ROAD MORTGAGE BONDS.—Sealed proposals will be received by this Company at their office, No. 48 City Exchange, Boston, up to the 1st day of October next, at 1 o'clock P. M., for a loan of five hundred thousand dollars, ($500,000,) in money, payable as follows:
10—Ten per cent on the 5th day of October next, which first installment the Company will retain without issuing Bonds therefor until the last installment is paid.
20—Twenty per cent. on the 1st day of November next.
20—Twenty per cent. on the 1st day of December next.
10—Ten per cent. on the 1st day of January, 1859.
10—Ten per cent. on the 1st day of February, 1859.
10—Ten per cent. on the 1st day of March, 1859.
10—Ten per cent. on the 1st day of April, 1859.
10—Ten per cent. on the 1st day of May, 1859.

For each installment except the first, Bonds will be issued, with proper adjustment of interest, when payments are made; or payments may be made earlier by notifying the Treasurer of the Company thereof, at the time when the first payment is made.

The Construction Bonds now offered are in sums of $500 and $1,000 each, to be dated Oct. 1, 1858, having twenty-five years to run, bearing 8 per cent. interest, payable semi-annually in New-York, being a part of an issue of one million of dollars which may be made, and secured by a first mortgage and trust deed to John M. Forbes, Henry P. Kidder, and John N. A. Griswold, Trustees, of 40 miles of railroad and its appurtenances, and more than 200,000 acres of valuable land in Iowa, covering also the first section of 35 miles of road from Burlington to Skunk River, which section is subject to liens amounting to $650,000. The proceeds of the lands constitute a sinking fund for the purchase and extinguishment of these Bonds; and by the terms of said mortgage and trust deed they are receivable at par in payment for any of said lands.

This issue will secure the completion of the Road to Ottumwa, in the Des Moines Valley, (a central point for the business of Southern and Western Iowa,) early next year.

Further information may be obtained at the office of the Company, or from its late report.

Other things being equal, a preference will be given to the smaller bids made by our stockholders, who are especially invited to share in the loan, the Company reserving to themselves the right to consider the responsibility of the parties making the proposals, as well as the rate offered. With these exceptions, they will award the loan pro rata to the highest bidder.

AN ORDINANCE TO AUTHORIZE THE Construction of a brick Sewer in Washington street, from the intersection of Sixth-street to the intersection of Newark-street, and in Newark-street, from Washington-street to the Hudson River.

The Mayor and Council of the City of Hoboken, do ordain as follows:

SEC. 1. That a Brick Sewer be built and constructed in Washington-street from the intersection of Sixth-street, to the intersection of Newark-street, and in Newark-street from Washington-street, running east to the Hudson River. That said Sewer be located in the carriage-way in Washington-street twelve feet and six inches from the curb-stone, on the easterly side of said carriage-way, and in the carriage-way in Newark-street ten feet from the curb-stone, on the southerly side of said carriage-way, or as nearly so in all things as practicable; and shall be constructed of bricks, and be four feet high and two feet eight inches wide in the clear, and shall have all necessary openings for man-holes, and all proper and necessary receiving basins and culverts to receive and carry off the surface-water from said street. That the opening of said Sewer at the said river shall be four feet below ordinary high-water mark, and shall run from said river on a rising grade of six inches perpendicular, for every one hundred feet of horizontal measurement along the whole length thereof.

SEC. 2. That John Walker, Alex. Shaler, and Thos. S. Field, being three disinterested freeholders residing in said city, be and they are hereby appointed Commissioners to determine what lands and real estate will be benefited by said Sewer, to estimate the whole costs of said Sewer according to the best of their judgment, and to cause a survey and map to be made thereof, and of the lots or parcels of land benefited thereby, distinguishing each by numbers; and to assess the whole costs upon said lands to be benefited thereby in proportion to the benefit received by each, and to make report thereof agreeably to the provisions of the charter of said City on that subject.

SEC. 3. That said Sewer shall be built and constructed under the direction of the Committee on Streets, and that the Street Commissioner shall superintend the building of the same.

Passed Sept. 8, 1858. Approved Sept. 9, 1858.
A. O. EVANS, City Clerk. JAMES H. WILSON, Acting Mayor.

OFFICE NEW-YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD CO., } NEW-YORK, June 11, 1858. }
THE NEW-YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD Company have earnestly endeavored during the past ten months to establish and maintain uniform and remunerative rates of traffic by the four great lines which connect the Atlantic cities and the West. Having failed in this, and believing it to be injudicious and improper to influence traffic by the issue of free passes, by the employment of runners and solicitors or by any other underhanded means, the Company, rather than resort to such means, have determined to reduce the fares, on and after Monday next, 14th inst., as follows: between
New-York and Dunkirk, to........................$6 10
New-York and Buffalo, to........................5 00
New-York and Niagara Falls, or Suspension Bridge, to........................5 00

All complicated disorders of the Sexual System effectually treated, including Weaknesses, &c., &c. Consultations in English, French and by letter. Office hours from 9 to 1, and 6 to 9 in the evening.

TRIESEMAR PROTECTED BY ROYAL Letters Patent of England, and secured by the Seals of the Ecole de Pharmacie de Paris, and the Imperial College of Medicine, Vienna. TRIESEMAR No. 1 is a remedy for relaxation, spermatorrhea, and exhaustion of the system. TRIESEMAR No. 2 effectually, in the short space of three days, completely and entirely eradicates all traces of those disorders which copavia and cubebs have so long been thought an antidote for, to the ruin of the health of a vast portion of the population. TRIESEMAR No. 3 is a great Continental remedy for that class of disorders which, unfortunately, the English physician treats with mercury, to the inevitable destruction of the patient's constitution, and which all the sarsaparilla in the world cannot remove. TRIESEMAR Nos. 1, 2 and 3 are alike devoid of taste or smell, and of all nauseating qualities. They may lie on the toilet table without their use being suspected. Sold in tin cases, and divided in separate doses, as administered by Velpeau, Lalleman, Roux, Ricord, &c., &c. Price $3 each, or four cases in one for $9, which saves $3; and in $27 cases. Sold by Dr. H. A. BARROW, No. 187 Prince-st., a few blocks west of Broadway, New-York. Immediately on receipt of the amount, Dr. B. will forward the $9 cases of TRIESEMAR and the large sizes, carriage paid, thus insuring genuine European preparations. The $3 cases also sent, but not free of carriage. Consultations as usual, from 11 A. M. till 2 P. M., and from 4 till 8 P. M., at 187 Prince-st., a few blocks west of Broadway.

CONFIDENTIAL MEDICAL AND SURGICAL CONSULTATIONS.—Dr. R. COBBETT, No. 19 Duane-st., adopts this method of informing citizens and strangers that he has for the last twenty-seven years confined his treatment solely to the cure of syphilitic, mercurial and other diseases of a private character. Although it is considered by a portion of the medical profession as a species of quackery for one of its legitimate members to advertise, still the great advantage the unfortunate victims of so fearful a malady derive from a regularly educated physician devoting his attention to this particular branch of the profession must be apparent. It is deplorable to witness some of the cases that are presented to Dr. C., where the disease has been driven into the system by quacks to break out again in the form of spots and ulcers on the body, pains in the joints and throat, night sweats and emaciation. STRICTURE.—Dr. C. has discovered a new process by which he can cure the worst forms of stricture in from two to three weeks. Constitutional debility, brought on by a secret habit indulged in by young men, effectually cured.

Dr. C. is a member of the N. Y. University Medical College, and the College of Surgeons, London, and the only graduate of either of the above institutions practising in his specialty in the City. N. B.—See his diplomas, in his office, with the signatures of the Professors inscribed thereon, a sure guarantee against deception.

DR. WATSON HAS FOR A LONG SERIES of years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated a vast number of cases with a success which has won for him the confidence of the public. The remedies are mild, and there is no interruption to business or change of diet. Dr. Watson receives patients in separate consulting rooms from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., at No. 459 Broome st., second block west of Broadway.

DR WATSON'S WORK, THE CAUSE AND CURE, issued simultaneously in London and New-York, is the only one which clearly explains the nature and mode of treatment of the VENEREAL DISEASE in all its different forms; but treats also in full of SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, and Premature Exhaustion, the result of early indiscretion, excess, or other causes. Anatomical plates of a superior kind, and drawings of every form of disease. Price $1, post-paid. "Dr. WATSON'S Work has been written by a person of great practical knowledge, and we cordially recommend it."—Medical Journal.
Sold by the Author, as above; also by J. W. JUDD, No. 222 Broadway, and by CHARLES MILLER, No. 436 Broadway, New-York.

RICORD'S, VELPEAU'S, CIVIALE'S, ACTON'S CURLING'S, and the Venereal Hospital Practice, of Paris and London, by Dr. LARMONT. As some persons afflicted with Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Primary and Constitutional Syphilis, Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions, Impotency, &c., may not be aware of the fact, he takes this medium of informing them that he is the only graduate in this City who is exclusively treating and curing those diseases, and whose connection with the European hospitals enables him to adopt the latest and most radical treatment, curing the oldest and most severe cases, at No. 82 Mercer st., corner of Spring, opposite St. Nicholas Hotel, from 10 A. M. till 9 P. M., except Sundays, unless by appointment. The Doctor's MEDICAL ADVISER AND MARRIAGE GUIDE, nearly 400 pages, 100 picture illustrations, is $1. Sold and mailed also by J. W. JUDD, No. 222 Broadway, New-York. It gives the advertised medicines, and should be seen by the married, single and the afflicted, before adopting any treatment, as it fully exposes the charlatans infesting this and other cities.
We commend Dr. LARMONT to the afflicted.—Courrier des Etats Unis, Staats Zeitung, Day Book, Atlas, &c.

DR. WARD, NO. 486 BROADWAY, PERFORMS the only permanent cure of private diseases. Sure cure, his Unfortunate's Friend and other remedies, price $1. Remember, all you afflicted, that by calling on Dr. WARD you may, in a few days, feel that Richard is himself again. Female diseases successfully treated. His Monthly Pills, $1 per box, never fail of effect intended. Office No. 486 Broadway, second floor; perfectly private, and so arranged that patients never meet. No charge for consultations. Afflicted, call without delay. Attendance till 10 P. M.

DR. COOPER, NO 14 DUANE-STREET, may be consulted on all diseases of a private nature; 26 years exclusively devoted to the treatment of secret diseases, enables him to warrant a cure in all cases undertaken. The victims of misplaced confidence who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being radically cured.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.—DISEASES INcident to females exclusively treated by Dr. DUBOIS, author of "The Female's Friend in Need." The Ladies' Private Circular and Marriage Calendar sent per letter free, except double postage. Address Dr. DUBOIS, No. 98 West 24th st., New York.

CORDIAL COGNAC BITTERS IMMEDIATELY relieves Diarrhœa, Ague and Bilious attacks. B. STEINFELDT sole Importer, No. 70 Nassau-st., New-York, and for sale by all druggists, bars and groceries.

DR. HUNTER—NO. 3 DIVISION-ST., PERFORMS THE GREATEST CURES EVER MADE
THE ONLY SECURITY AGAINST HUMBUGS
AND THE EFFECTS OF DISEASES,
IS TO APPLY TO HIS OLD
DISPENSARY ESTABLISHED IN 1834.
Dr. Hunter's Vade Mecum gives Ricord's, Velpeau's, Lallemand's, and all the faculty prescriptions and treatment; all the advertised remedies; is full of colored plates, 400 pages, and is the most valuable work out. It should be seen by the afflicted, before adopting any treatment, as it fully exposes the charlatans infesting this and other cities. To be had of the Doctor, No 3 Division st., where his great remedy, Hunter's Red Drop can be had genuine only. $1 per vial. Advice gratis. He rescues more young men from destruction every 10 days than any other 10 M. D.'s in 10 years. It is deplorable to witness some of the cases that are presented to Dr Hunter, where the disease has been driven into the system by quacks to break out again in the form of spots and ulcers on the body, pains in the joints and throat, night sweats and emaciation. STRICTURE—Dr. Hunter has discovered a new process by which he can cure the worst forms of stricture in from two to three weeks. Constitutional debility, brought on by a secret habit indulged in by young men, effectually cured. A word to the wise is sufficient.

American Pomological Society.

The Seventh Annual Convention of this Society was organized at Mozart Hall, in this City, at 11 o'clock A. M., yesterday; the Hon. MARSHALL P. WILDER, the President, was in the Chair. Delegates from nearly every State in the Union were present, and after they had presented their credentials, and other preliminary business of a routine character had been transacted,

The President delivered his annual address, in which he called attention to to the fact that the Society was ten years old—the first Pomological Society instituted. He adverted to the progress of Pomology, and congratulated the Society on the cheering prospects before it. He paid a tribute to the memory of DOWNING and other deceased members of the Society. The body of the address was devoted to the consideration of the question, "Can pears be grown for the market at a profit?" He argued in the affirmative, and adduced many facts, of great significance, in support of his position. Finally he enlarged upon the pleasure and profit of the study of Pomology, and promised much of both to those who should pursue it sedulously. He expressed his desire, in conclusion, to retire from the office of President of the Society, which he had held for eight years.

The address was listened to with marked attention, and as soon as it was concluded,

T. W. FIELD, Esq., offered the following resolutions, which were adopted unanimously:

Resolved That the thanks of the American Pomological Society be tendered to the Hon. MARSHALL P. WILDER for his long and valuable services as President of the Association, and for the uniform courtesy and impartiality with which he has discharged the duties of his office.

Resolved, That in view of his distinguished ability as a presiding officer and his extensive knowledge as a pomologist, his services are especially desirable to the Chair of the Society, and that his acceptance of the same will be the surest guarantee for its progress and prosperity.

A Nominating Committee and Business Committee were appointed and the Society took a recess.

In the afternoon the Nominating Committee reported a list of officers for the ensuing term:

Hon. MARSHALL P. WILDER President.
One Vice-President from each State and Territory.
THOMAS W. FIELD, of Brooklyn, Secretary.
THOMAS P. JAMES, of Philadelphia, Treasurer.

They were unanimously elected.

The Treasurer's report was read, exhibiting a balance on hand of $428 94, after the expenditure of nearly $400.

T. W. FIELD, Esq., of Brooklyn, read a paper upon the adaptation of varieties to localities. He said Nature like the Spartans destroyed her weaker offspring, and only the strong seedlings survived. It was the part of the horticulturist to soften the rigors of Nature and preserve the half-hardy but more generous fruits. The immense number of varieties of pears that spring from seeds was the means by which Nature provided for overcoming the difficulties of various soils and climates. By this means she produced some varieties better fitted for special localities, and restored the balance between the more and less favored.

The report of Mr. LOUIS BERCKMAN on fruit-growing and the remedy for its discouragements was also read by Mr. FIELD. It compared the discouragements with regard to fruit-culture with those connected with the cultivation of wheat and corn, which had been overcome by persevering inquiry. Americans should be especially grateful for their success in pomology. Mr. BERCKMAN said he had seen more good fruit in a single exhibition at Boston than in twenty of the best exhibitions of Europe. At the South he had seen land utterly worthless, as far as the production of grain was concerned, and bought for $5 per acre, producing $500 and $600 worth of grapes per acre.

A paper was read by SAMUEL J. WALKER, recommending a preparation of a catalogue of all the fruits ever raised in this country, and local catalogues of the fruits of the different States.

In the evening there was an informal gathering and a conversational discussion of the subject of pear-culture.

The Convention will be in session to-day and to-morrow.

THE EXHIBITION.

The lower floor of Mozart Hall is given up to practical Pomology, as the upper is devoted to the theory of science. The luscious display of fruits is tempting to the eye, and agonizing to the palate. Adam's sin is pardonable, and Eve's temptation not surprising, at one glance upon that show of ruddy fruit. Even the twenty-five cent admission which is imposed upon the visitor, cannot efface the poetical impression, nor destroy the beauty of the scene; in fact, the imposition of that trifling bar to the "delight of the eyes" enhances the comfort of the spectacle by making it select, and hence more valuable.

The contributions are far larger than the managers of the undertaking anticipated. A small room, hidden away in a dismal corner of the Hall, was the place first selected for the show of specimens, but it speedily proved inadequate, and the plates and trays, heaped up with the products of fruity boughs, were transferred to the spacious apartment below, where, to-day and to-morrow, New-York may enjoy the view of the finest collection that has ever been seen in the City, pomologically speaking. Only, be careful to heed the maxim, "Touch not, taste not, handle not," an imperative mandate, which is rigidly enforced.

Some fifteen States have sent their quota to fill the measure of pomological-greatness. From the distant region of the Bayou Sara, in Louisiana, are Southern fruits of superlative excellence, among them certain surprising seedling apples of the strawberry variety, in size astonishing, and in flavor the pink of delicacy. From North Carolina, there is an abundant variety of apples, of all kinds and shapes and flavors. Maryland sends some fine pears. The New-England States present excellent plums, pears, apples, apricots and other flavory products. As yet, the exhibition is incomplete, but the prospect already is taking, and it will be still better to-day, when the tables will be full and the company larger. An hour may be passed pleasantly in a view of the choice things that these fruitful people of pomological tendencies have brought for our delectation.

Eleventh Anniversary of the Battle of Mexico—Parade of the Scott Life Guard.

Yesterday was the eleventh anniversary of the surrender of the City of Mexico to the American Army. The day was celebrated in this City by the "Scott Life Guard." At 2½ o'clock the members of the Guard now in the City, numbering forty-seven, met at the Armory in Crosby-street, near Broome. Their appearance was excellent. A finer set of fellows it would be hard to find. The names of the officers are as follows:

Captain—J. H. HOBART WARD.
Senior First Lieutenant—Addison Farnsworth.
Junior First Lieutenant—Wm. H. Brown.
Second Lieutenant—John C. Macgregor.
President—W. B. Burnett.
Vice-President—Gen. Wheat.
Second Vice-President—L. F. Manard.
Secretary and Treasurer—Hugh McDonnall.

Following the Guard in procession down Broadway to the Battery, an object of considerable interest was one of Lyman's Accelerating Rifled Cannons, a fine piece of ordnance, twelve feet in length, capable of throwing a nine-pound shot a distance of five miles—three successive charges of powder behind the shot, furnishing the required impetus.

Before the Guard left the Armory, a silver dinner service, including a pitcher, waiter and goblets, was presented to Capt. HOBART WARD. Last night the Guard visited Palace Garden.

The Board of Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday afternoon, Supervisor VOORHIS in the chair. $1,000 was appropriated for repairs to the Superior Court rooms. Bills for refitting the Supreme Court rooms were ordered paid. A bill of $11,000 for stationery was laid over. Supervisor KENNEDY, in relation to the appropriation for the Commissioners of Record, stated that he had examined and found that in the printed record the $50,000 appropriated did not appear. Supervisor BLUNT said it did appear in the manuscript record. Supervisor KENNEDY said, if that was the case, he would give notice that he would, at the next meeting of the Board, present an ordinance repealing so much of the former ordinance as related to that matter.

The Board then adjourned to Tuesday next.

Police Intelligence.

ALLEGED FELONIOUS ASSAULT.—Patrick Lahey and Patrick Pryor, both residing in Tenth-avenue, had an altercation, Monday, which ended in the latter stabbing his antagonist in the back of his neck and arm, inflicting severe wounds. Pryor was arrested and taken before Alderman STARR, Acting Justice at the Second District Police Court, and committed to answer in default of $500 bail.

GRAND LARCENY.—Wm. Kendell, an English lad, 17 years of age, was yesterday committed to Jefferson Market Prison on a charge of stealing a watch and some minor jewelry from Mr. Wm. Johnson, of No. 118 East Twenty-seventh-street. The stolen property was recovered from a pawnbroker, where it had been pledged.

Coroners' Inquests.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.—An inquest was held, Monday, at No. 182 West Thirty-second street, upon the body of PATRICK TYMAN, who was found drowned on Sunday near Governor's Island. The deceased was drowned while bathing on Thursday night, and a verdict was rendered accordingly. Deceased was a native of Ireland, 25 years of age, and unmarried.

FOUND DROWNED.—The body of an unknown man was found on Monday, foot of Pier No. 16, East River. An inquest was held on the body and a verdict of "Supposed drowning" rendered. Deceased was dressed like a laborer and about 30 years of age.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

A special meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening, the Hon. CYRUS P. SMITH, President, in the Chair.

The Appropriations.—Mr. BRAINARD called the attention of the Board to the fact that, in the printed report of the Committee of the Joint Board of Aldermen and Supervisors, it was stated that this Board of Education had only asked for an appropriation of $127,700, instead of $142,700, as appeared by the minutes, the Finance Committee was instructed to ask for. The reduction, he said, had been made in the amount asked for alteration of heating apparatus, and for a school building on Atlantic-street, near the Ferry.

Mr. BRAINARD had no motion to make.

The Chairman of the Finance Committee, Mr. DUNHAM, said, in reply to the expressed wish of a member for an explanation, that the Committee had no further explanations to make; that they had reported to the Board that they had asked for $142,700, and they would much rather a special Committee should be appointed to investigate the matter.

Mr. HARRIS moved to refer the whole matter to the Finance Committee.

Mr. ANTHONY hoped the Board would not do any such thing, and moved that the subject be referred to the Special Committee of Three, which, after some further discussion, was adopted.

Messrs. BRAINARD, PARSONS and PAULDING were appointed on the Committee.

The Cable.—Mr. HARRIS said that Captain WM. L. HUDSON had presented a piece of the ocean cable to him for each School in the City. A suitable resolution acknowledging the compliment, was adopted, and also the following:

Resolved, That the Chairman of the Committee on School-houses be authorized to have the portion of the cable allotted to each of the Public Schools mounted with brass and properly secured with a copper chain and suspended in each of the school-houses of this City, with a card in a small frame discriptive of the same, at an expense not exceeding $1 50 each.

Book-keeping.—A communication signed by twelve young men, asking for the use of a room in Public School Building No. 16, evenings, to receive private instruction in the art of book-keeping, provoked a lengthy and amusing, if not instructive, discussion. The principle laid down some years ago, that the Public School Buildings shall be used for no outside purpose whatever, is yet rigidly adhered to, and the communication was eventually laid upon the table.

The School Districts.—On motion, Messrs. NORTHRUP, HUNTER and WHITLOCK were appointed a Committee to revise all of the School Districts in the City, and obtain a map of the same.

The Board, after transacting some further business of no general interest, adjourned.

INQUESTS.—Coroner REDDING held three inquests, yesterday, all sudden deaths. JOHN MCGEE, of Columbia-street, near Hamilton-avenue, went to New-York last week, on a spree, got whipped, and died on Sunday. The Coroner found that death was the result of a complication of causes, and so gave the deceased the benefit of a verdict of death from natural causes. The next case was a German woman, residing at No. 123 Baltic. The Coroner and his Jury had but little difficulty in arriving at a conclusion that bad rum killed her, and accordingly rendered a verdict of death from intemperance. Mrs. WINFLUCK, residing on Myrtle-avenue, near Gold-street, also died suddenly, the Coroner and his Jury say from natural causes. But the daughter of deceased tells a fearful story of how her father beat her mother, and what the consequence was. We must believe the Coroner, however.

COWHIDING BY A WOMAN.—The usual monotony of Fulton-street was somewhat disturbed at about 1 o'clock P. M., yesterday, by a somewhat novel affair for Brooklyn. At the hour above named an enraged woman entered the shop of a tailor near Front-street, and commenced an unceremonious attack upon the proprietor with a raw hide. He attempted to escape from the castigation, but being headed off at all points, he finally grasped the upraised arm, and by a sudden effort became possessor of the weapon. Then commenced an indiscriminate war of words, from which the crowd, collected by the excitement, learned that the woman was the wife, or was once, of the tailor; that they had separated, and the wife, learning that her husband was about to marry a young girl in his employ, came to the rescue, and inflicted summary punishment. She was taken off by a Policeman, and a hearing will be had before Justice VOORHIES this morning.

TAKEN IN AND DONE FOR.—A hirsute gentleman, of the German persuasion, while strolling on Fulton-street, last evening, was induced to stand treat by a bright eyed girl whom he met. They visited a saloon near the City Hall, and while there the fair creature robbed her companion of all the money he had, ($7,) and departed. He soon after missed his money, and lodged a complaint at the office of the Deputy-Superintendent of Police. Detective RAYNER arrested the girl, but no money could be found, and she was allowed to depart upon her own recognizance.

THE HEALTH OF BROOKLYN.—The general health of Brooklyn is good. But during the past week there have been several suspicious cases of fever, particularly in Kelsey's Alley and vicinity. One case, certain, has been sent to Flatbush Hospital, and other subjects have been buried. All of the sick with this suspicious fever have worked in or about Quarantine, or have been engaged in lightering goods from that locality. The Health Officer has not fully determined what the fever is, but he is confident that it is some other color than yellow, and—we hope so.

COURT OF SESSIONS.—The September Term of this Court was opened yesterday, when, after impaneling the following Grand Jury, the Court adjourned until to-day:

HELD TO ANSWER.—OWEN MCGUIRE, a young man well known to the Police, was arrested Monday night, at a ball in Musical Hall, by Officer BEATTY, of the First Precinct, for having a slung-shot in his possession. He gave bail, before Justice CORNWELL, yesterday morning, in the sum of $500, to appear for trial before the Court of Sessions.

DEATH.—DANIEL W. POST, a well-known citizen of Brooklyn, died yesterday. His disease was consumption.

THE WATER-WORKS.—A special meeting of the Common Council was called for last evening to consider the proposed change in the Water-Works, but a quorum could be obtained. The Board adjourned for two weeks.

Brooklyn Young Men's Christian Association.

JOHN WINSLOW, Esq., the essayist of the Young Men's Christian Association, at its regular monthly meeting, held at Trinity Church last evening, discoursed of "The Citizen," defining the duties incumbent upon young men, with particular reference to their part in moulding the Government of the country. The subject was ably handled. The relations of the citizen to society were discussed, the necessity of a more active participation of the moral forces in the affairs of Government was urged, and a peculiar vigilance over the political movements of the country was demonstrated to be a positive requirement resting upon every man who desires the reputation of a good citizen. These points were presented tersely, and pressed with earnestness. The speaker refrained, with praiseworthy forbearance, from the introduction of political theories, but argued his case on general principles, and succeeded in making a strong impression. A brisk discussion followed, from which politics were not excluded. Dr. CONKLING urged the rights of the colored population, and was opposed to the foreign element. Another speaker recommended attendance at the primary meetings; and Mr. ABBOTT suggested the formation of Ward clubs for Christian young men. The duties of a citizen having been fully considered, and no inconsiderable light having been thrown on the subject by the suggestions of the essayist, a member took his station at the door, to invite members as they passed out to perform missionary service for the firemen of Brooklyn.

Southern Rice Markets.

In Charleston, during the week ending Friday, Sept. 10, the movements in Rice were: Receipts, 2,124 tcs.; sales moderate, at $2 62½@$3 37½, chiefly at $3 12½@$3 37½, ₱ 100 lbs.; exports, 1,794 tcs., including 1,426 tcs. to New-York; remaining on shipboard, not cleared, Sept. 10, 700 tcs. Freights to New-York, per steamer, $2 ₱ tierce. In Savannah, only 51 casks inferior were sold, at $2 25@$2 62½ ₱ 100 lbs. The Savannah Republican, Sept. 10, says: "Up to last Sunday the prospect for a full crop was very fine, the harvesting season had been very favorable and the yield good, but a heavy rain set in on that day and caught a great deal lying cut in the field, which, if not favored speedily by dry and hot weather, will be seriously damaged if not totally destroyed. The next week or ten days will be an anxious time with planters, and will decide the question of a good or a very short crop."

TUESDAY, Sept. 14—P. M.

THE RESULTS OF THE LAST COTTON CROP have just been rendered in tabular form by the New-York Shipping List, (made the standard crop authority by the usage of the trade,) and we are indebted to the editors for a proof copy in advance of their own regular issue of Wednesday. The comparative receipts at the ports, which make the total crop 3,113,962 bales, are as follows:

Of the Crop as rendered by the receipts at the ports, 452,185 bales went into Domestic Consumption, in addition to which 143,377 bales were taken for home use in Virginia, and South and West of Virginia, making 595,562 bales; the smallest annual Domestic Consumption, owing to the intervention of the Crisis, in ten years. The following is the comparison:

DOMESTIC CONSUMPTION.

| Years. | Bales. | Years. | Bales. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1857–8 | 595,562 | 1851–2 | 699,603 |
| 1856–7 | 819,936 | 1850–1 | 485,614 |

| 1853–4 | 737,236 | 1847–8 | 616,044 |
| 1852–3 | 803,725 | | |

The amount of new Cotton received previous to the end of the crop year, Aug. 31, this season, is 8,031 bales. In reference to the Foreign Export of the last crop, the probability is, that the increase of 337,000 bales will insure a larger figure in value, in the forthcoming Treasury tables for the late fiscal year, than the crop of 1857, and that was the heaviest in value of all previous crops, being one hundred and thirty-two millions dollars.

The changes in Money affairs to-day are not important. The Bank Statement is generally viewed with favor. Most of the heavy lenders, on demand, are content with 3½@4 ₱ cent. ₱ annum on first-rate collateral, and even on these terms the Stock Brokers are not using Money freely. One or two Banks are asking 4½ ₱ cent. on call, though a similar attempt was made last week, without success, trifling as it is, to establish this advance. There are no further changes in the rates on paper. The additional business in Exchange, to-day, for the English mail by the Africa, was done chiefly at 109⅞ on London, 60 days' sight, and 110¼, 3 days' sight. Francs were in better supply in consequence of one or two heavy parcels at hand from New-Orleans and Mobile, the rates 5.13¾@5.11¼. The remittances in Bullion, amount, as at present advised, to $600,000. The Sub-Treasury disbursed $349,950 to-day against $175,699 received. The first item includes, $73,000, paid out on California account; the last $91,000, paid in for Custom duties.

The downward turn in the Stock Market, noticed yesterday afternoon, and which seems to be purely speculative in its character, based upon no particular or immediate signs in the Money, Exchange or Railway circles, continued to-day, with increased sales, on contract as well as for immediate delivery, in New-York Central, Erie and Reading. There was also a disposition shown to press the Western Road shares, all of which were lower than on Monday by ½@¾ ₱ cent. The lowest point made on New-York Central was 78¼, seller 60 days, and 78¾ ₱ cent. cash, as against 79⅝ yesterday afetrnoon; Erie, 17¾@17⅞; Reading 48¾, cash, at the close—the stock showing a fair degree of strength through the day, as compared with the remainder of the list. There were some large sales of Harlem at 10 ₱ cent., the first of any importance for a month or two past. Hudson River closed at 27 ₱ cent. Panama and Pacific Mail were ½@¾ ₱ cent. lower than yesterday. In State Stocks, Missouri sympathized with the share list, ¼@⅜ ₱ cent. on the cash stock, and sold at 83¾@84, at sellers' option. In Railway Bonds the business was moderate. At the close, prices were a little steadier, though the general market, in point of tone, seemed still in favor of the Bear account.

The following is a comparative statement of the Exports, exclusive of Specie, from New-York to foreign ports, for the week and since Jan. 1:

Money Circular for Europe.

Per Africa.] NEW-YORK, Sept. 15th, 1858.

Since the 31st August, date of our last advices, the tone of our Stock Market has not materially altered; the same indisposition to operate, and the apathy that we have noticed since several months, still continue. Prices of railroad shares have fluctuated but little from day to day, but the tendency has been constantly downward, and the market at the close is considerably lower. State Stocks, with but few exceptions, have participated in the decline. Railroad Bonds are generally higher. State Stocks—There have been large sales of Missouri 6s, closing at a decline of ½, and of Tennessee 6s, which have fallen 1 ₱ cent. Louisiana 6s have declined ¾; California 7s, ½; ditto, new issue, 1½; and Virginia 6s, ¼ ₱ cent. There have been sales of Ohio 6s of 1860 at 101½; Indiana 5s at 89, and Minnesota 8s at 106½. The new Government Loan drags; 103¾@103½ is the closing price. City and County Bonds—The largest transactions have been in Brooklyn City 6s, Memphis City 6s, guaranteed by State of Tennessee, and St. Louis County 7s. There have also been small sales of Louisville 6s and Cincinnati 6s, issued for Water Works; New-Orleans 6s and St. Louis 6s, issued to Railroads; Albany 6s, both Railroad and Water Works, and Fayette County (Ky.) 6s. Railroad Bonds are mostly higher, and in some cases the rise is a marked one. Illinois Central Freeland 7s have risen 2½; Michigan Central 8s, ½; Harlem 1st Mortgage, ½; Harlem 2d Mortgage, 1½, and Erie 1875 Bonds, 1½ ₱ cent. Erie 2d Mortgages are quoted 86 ex coupon. Illinois Central Construction Bonds have fallen 1½. There have been sales of Galena and Chicago 1st Mortgage at 96; Milwaukee and Mississippi 2d Mortgage 10s at 66@68, closing at the latter price. Lake Erie, Wabash and Western 1st Mortgages have risen from 68½ to 73; do. 2d Mortgages from 49½ to 54; Michigan Southern Sinking Fund Bonds from 69 to 71; do. 2d Mortgages from 51¼ to 59. The heavy rise on the Bonds of the two last-named Companies is owing to the improved receipts on their respective roads. Railroad Shares—The market is lower. New-York Central have fallen 1¼; Reading, ⅜; Chicago and Rock Island, 3¾; Michigan Southern, ½; do. Preferred, ¼. The heaviest dealings have been in the aforenamed. Cleveland and Toledo Shares have declined 1½; Erie, ½; Galena and Chicago, 2; Illinois Central, 2; Michigan Central, 2¼; Milwaukee and Mississippi, ¾, and Panama, 1¼ ₱ cent. Sales of Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati at 91. Money is in undiminished supply for "call" loans, the rates for which range from 3½ to 5 ₱ cent. Indorsed paper, 4 to 7 ₱ cent., according to grade and maturity. Exchange on Europe—Bills are not abundant, and rates are sustained. The bulk of business on London has been done at 109¾@110, and on Paris at 5.12½.

A Word About the London Negotiation.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The entire mortgages of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway in Ohio and Pennsylvania amount to $6,500,000, only $4,500,000 of which are included in this negotiation, the other $2,000,000 being reserved for the stocking of the road—not $7,300,000 pledged as your correspondent reports! The Bonds are to be delivered only at such times as the installments of money and rails are advanced. These amount to about $3,000,000, not $2,100,000, or 30 per cent. on the dollar as your correspondent reports.

The profits stated to be given to a firm of brokers in London, and also to a person connected with the Bank of England, needs no refutation. It has not a shadow of truth. None of the officers, directors or agents of the Companies make any commission out of this negotiation, or get any Bonds, bonus or shares, and are in no way interested in the construction contracts. The Directors are above collusion and are highly respectable men.

The negotiation is not conditioned upon the character of a report to be made by Mr. KENNARD, nor has the Mr. KENNARD arrived who is to make the report. Mr. KENNARD, who is a very skillful English engineer is to come out here and advise as to the construction of the work. His brother is now here, but not with a view to this object. As to the enterprise being little known, its securities have never been offered in Wall-street, but it is much better known than many are willing to admit. ONE WHO KNOWS.

Finance and Business in Boston.

From the Boston Post, Sept. 14.

On Saturday morning the bank specie amounted to $8,897,000. There is no special change to record of the money market, although there appears less disposition to accept of very low rates on long time. The aggregate of the bank loans is high, and in some of the institutions the loans approach so near the legal maximum that no desire is manifested to increase them at less than 6 ₱ cent., at which rate a great deal of the daily business is done in the way of small loans and renewals of larger paper. The transactions in sterling were very moderate for Saturday's boat, the best drawn bills bringing from 9⅝ to 9¾, while the best bankers' bills drawn to order were held stiffly at 9⅞. The market for very prime bills has an upward tendency on account of the small supply of acceptable commercial bills. New York funds are scarce and in brisk demand for the most part. Boston must be considerably in debt to New-York, although a day occasionally occurs when New-York checks are dull and apparently abundant. There is no "rush" in business, but a good deal of trade is done in the midst of many complaints of stillness. One of the heaviest commission houses estimates that the dry goods people in general are doing about two-thirds as much as usual. As far as we can judge the retailers are having rather a meagre business just now—but the jobbing trade is fair. Some houses, in all branches, are as busy as ever they were at this season of the year.
